N O T E .

THE two previous volumes of this "Catalogue of Manuscript Music in the British Museum" dealt with Sacred and Secular Vocal Music respectively. The present volume, with which the Catalogue is completed, contains Instrumental Music, Treatises on Music, and other miscellaneous matter as classified under Part V. in the List of Contents. It also includes an Appendix, chiefly of manuscripts of music of all classes which have been added to the collections since the publication of Vol. I. in 1906 down to the end of 1908, the latest acquisition catalogued being Additional MS. 37767.

All three volumes have been compiled by Mr. A. Hughes-Hughes; and the proof-sheets have also been read by Mr. I. H. Jeayes, Assistant-Keeper of MSS.

GEORGE F. WARNER,
Keeper of MSS.

SYMPHONIES (nos. 47 and 48 in Spitta’s list), for bassoon, flute, 2 horns, 2 oboes, 2 violins, viola, violoncello, and bass, in parts, by Haydn; being the copies made by his amanuensis, J. Radnitzky, and sent to William Forster, the London music-printer, for publication, on 25 October, 1784 (see Eg. 2380, f. 12). They are both signed by the composer “Di me Giuseppe Haydn.”

Eg. 2379, ff. 191–386b.

Paper; about 1784, etc. Oblong octavo. See also below (H.); and under Chamber Music (II. B. 2. 3; D. 2. u).

COLLECTION of symphonies, etc., in parts, by Haydn, in the hand of his amanuensis, each signed by the composer “Di me Giuseppe Haydn,” etc. They appear to be the copies sent to William Forster for publication—nos. 1-4, in 1784; the others in 1787 (Eg. 2380, ff. 1-7)—. The latter is evidently responsible for the alternative title of "Overture" and the numbers given on the fly-leaves at the beginning of each. With one or two exceptions (indicated below), the parts consist of flute, 2 oboes, 2 horns, bassoon, 2 violins, viola, and basso or violoncello. The numbers given to them below (in brackets) correspond with those in the composer's list in Eg. 2380, f. 12.

Paper; A.D. 1880. Oblong folio.

“SINFONIA” in G (Allegro molto, Andante, and Allegro), for strings, etc., in score, apparently by Antonio Vivaldi. From a comparison with the composition which precedes it (a concerto for lute and viola d’ amore—see above, p. 5), and from the direction “lauto [? = leuto] solo” in the first movement, the piece was probably written for those instruments as well as for the violins, violette (sc. violas), and violoncello named in the second movement. The bass in the first and last movements is occasionally figured for harpsichord.

SOLOS for Double Bass, by Domenico Dragonetti. Almost entirely autograph.

17821 (ff. 45). A collection of thirty-two compositions consisting almost invariably of two movements, the first slow and the second quick, generally in the same key. What was originally no. 1 has been lost, but the number has been made up by the insertion of one between nos. 7 and 8. Several of them are imperfect in their present form, but were afterwards finished as string quintets (see below, D. 4).

17822. 1–14. Fourteen compositions similar to the above, including variations on Paisiello's “Nel cor più,” and on the “Carneval de Venice.” Duplicate copies of nos. 1–7 and 10 are contained in the preceding volume. ff. 3–28.

15. Arrangement of Rode's air [with variations, in G], as sung by Madame Catalani. f. 38.

16–23. Eight pieces similar in character to nos. 1–14; they form part of what appears to have been originally a set of twelve pieces, of which, however, only the first 6, the 9th, and the 12th, are given here. ff. 41–51.

17829, passim. Solos and sketches of solos, including “God save the King” with variations. f. 3;—Largo and Allegro non tanto in B minor (three sketches). ff. 10, 13, 24;—“The famous Solo in E minor” (two sketches). ff. 11b, 18;—“Nel cor più,” with variations. f. 20;—the bravura passage sung by Banti in Paisiello's “I Giuocchi d'Agrigento.” f. 26;—“Sul margine d'un rio,” with variations. f. 31;—a “Temma con variazione” (sic) in D. f. 36;—and Variations by Corelli. f. 51. Some of them (ff. 5–12b) are in the hand of Mariotti, the trombone-player.

17830. A similar collection of pieces, including some waltz movements. f. 2;—Variations on “Nel cor non più” (sic—different from those in the preceding volume). f. 8;—Variations on the gigue in Corelli’s 9th solo, op. 5. f. 21;—Exercises. ff. 24, 25, etc.;—Variations on “The Infant’s Prayer,” a song by [Vincent] Novello. f. 32;—and an Irish air with variations. f. 34.

17831. 1–12. Waltzes. ff. 2–4b.

13. Variations on the quick movement in Novello’s Song “The Infant’s Prayer” (see the preceding volume, f. 32). f. 22.

14–16. Arrangements from three quartets by F. Devienne. f. 24b.

17. Andantino and Allegro, in D. f. 25.

18. A piece in D minor ($\frac{3}{4}$ time), founded on a melody by Corelli. f. 27.

Add. 17832, 17833, passim.

Paper; 18th–19th cent.

SOLO for Flute, in F, with a bass, by [Gottfried] Finger.

Add. 30839, passim.

Paper; 17th–18th cent. Oblong octavo. See also Flute Duets and Quartets, below (A. 9. b and d).

COLLECTION of what appear to be compositions—original and otherwise—for Flute, chiefly by anonymous composers. Possibly it is the second flute part of some music for that instrument in combination with others, “2” having been stamped on the upper and lower covers; some of the pieces were certainly written originally for trumpet. The compiler is apparently a Frenchman, but most of the few composers named are either English or flourished in England in the last decade of the 17th century. Many of the pieces are evidently taken from dramatic works. Those which are apparently intended to form suites have been bracketed together.

10. GUITAR MUSIC.

Add. 31640.

Paper; ff. 128. A.D. 1732. Oblong octavo. In the original tooled binding with clasps.

“PASSACALLES y Obras de Guitarra por todos los Tonos Naturales y Accidentales para . . . Dⁿ Joseph Alvarez de Saa[ve]dras por Santiago de Murzia . . . 1732.” They are written in a species of tablature, apparently for each of the twelve strings of the guitar of that day. The MS. consists of two parts, the first (ff. 4–46b) containing “Passacalles” and other pieces headed “A proporcion,” and the second part (ff. 47b–128) twelve Suites, generally divided into two parts and consisting of Preludio, Allegro, Allemanda, Correnta, Zarabanda (“Despacio”), Giga, Rondo, Gavotta, Minuet; the suite which commences at f. 58 is described as “Vna Ydea Especial de Clarines” (?=trumpet tunes), and includes a long Prelude, “Canciones,” “Llamadas” (?trumpet calls), Marcha, “Fagina,” and “Menuet de Clarin”; other movements named are “La Burlesca,” “Despacio” (?=Adagio), Rigodon, Bourrée, and Toccatas; adaptations of one of the latter and of a Giga by Corelli are included (ff. 86, 95b). At f. 121b is an “Allemanda Tombo. a la Muerte de Madama de Orleans.”

Add. 14905, ff. 10-53.

Paper; temp. Charles I. Small folio. See also below (part v, sections i, ii, and vi; and under Crowd and Harp in section vii).

COLLECTION of Welsh airs for Harp written in a kind of tablature to which a key is given on f. 20. The MS. is described on f. 5 (in an 18th-century hand) as "Musica neu Beroriaeth . . . the Music of the Britains, as settled by a Congress, or Meeting of Masters of Music, by order of Gryffydd ap Cynan, Prince of Wales, about A.D. 1100 [conf. f. 62], with some of the most antient pieces of the Britains, supposed to have been handed down to us from the British Druids. In two Parts (sc. Bass and Treble). . . wrote by Robert ap Huw. of Bodwigen in Anglesey in Charles ye 1st's time, some part of it copied then, out of W^m Penllyn's Book" [he lived temp. Henry VIII]. The MS. is preceded and followed by others, mostly in the hands of Lewis and Richard Morris, also relating to Ancient British Music. The whole of the work being published in The Myvyrian Archæology of Wales (vol. iii, pp. 497-512, 465-496, 513-624), it has not been thought necessary to give a detailed account of its contents here. The principal composers named are Dafydd Athro (f. 10), Ifan Fab y Go[f] (f. 12b), Kydwgan (f. 23b), Llwyn ap Ifan ab y Go[f] (f. 27b), [G]Ryffydd ab Adda and Dafydd Brofwyd (f. 31), Ifan ab y Go[f] (ff. 33, 38), Morfydd (f. 47b), and Llywelyn Dylynior (f. 51). There are lists of tunes on ff. 53b, 55b, 56, 57, 61 (by Cadwgan and Cyhelyn); most of which are copied in Add. 14939, with one or two additions (see ff. 3, 29, 31, 32, 32b, 33, 35, of that MS.).

Add. 14977, f. 94.

Paper; 17th cent. Octavo. The chief contents of the MS. are Welsh poems.

Paper; A.D. 1616, with later additions. Folio. On the cover are the initials I. P. on either side of the royal arms. The MS. belonged afterwards to Mrs. Manwareringe; and in 1811 to W. J. Porter. See also Lute Duets, below (A. 14. b).

COLLECTION of dances and other tunes arranged for Lute. Folios 4–36 and 52b–54 were transcribed in 1616 by Jane Pickeringe (probably the Jane Puckering whose father, Sir Thomas, was created a baronet in 1612 and whose aunt Dorothy married Sir Adam Newton, tutor to prince Henry); ff. 37–45b and 51b–46 (reversed) appear to have been transcribed about 1664–1678, at which time Denis Gautier (apparently the principal contributor) flourished. The names of the composers, where given in the MS., are appended below.

COLLECTION of solos for Lute. The "Weis" whose name is put to so many of them is probably Sylvius Leopold Weiss, but a few may be by his brother Sigismund, who was also a lutist, and by whom there is a composition on f. 33b. Probably other pieces besides those ascribed to them below are the work of one or other of the brothers. The numbers which appear to form suites have been bracketed together.

Vellum; 14th cent. $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in. See also vol. i, p. 425.

TWO PIECES, consisting of the melody in the ordinary notation on a 5-line stave, with small letters (a-g) written underneath, apparently representing the bass notes, in a sort of Organ tablature. They are each divided into four and five "punctus," or movements, with occasional instructions for playing, such as "ouert," "clos" (which appear to refer to the stops), and "return" (sc. repeat?).

* See also under Anthems and Services passim, in vol. i; and for earlier music, under Pianoforte Music, below (A. 19), passim.

Add. 29987, ff. 56b–64 passim, 88b.

Vellum; 15th–16th cent. Octavo. See also vol. ii, p. 120.

COMPOSITIONS on 5-line staves, apparently written for Organ, by anonymous Italian musicians.

1. A "stanpita" or series of short pieces, most of them divided into several parts, bearing the following names:—"Ghaetta." f. 56b;—"Chominciamento." f. 57;—"Isabella." f. 57b;—"Tre fontane." f. 58;—"Belicha." ff. 59, 60b;—"Parlamento." f. 61;—"In pro. . ." f. 61b;—"Principio di virtu." f. 62;—Saltarello. f. 63;—"Trotto" and two Saltarellos. f. 63b;—"Lamento di Tristano," "La Rotta," "La Manfredina," and "La rotta della Manfredina." f. 64;—and a 4th Saltarello. f. 64b.
2. A piece without a name. f. 88b.

Add. 30513, ff. 3–115.

Paper; late Henry VIII. Oblong octavo. In the original binding, stamped with Tudor rose, portcullis and fleur de lys, and the initials H[enricus] R[ex]. Belonged at a late period successively to J. Stafford Smith, Dr. Rimbault, and Professor W. H. Cummings.

COLLECTION of compositions apparently arranged for Organ or virginals, on two staves of from 5 to 8 lines each, or a single stave of from 11 to 13 lines. Probably in the hand of Thomas Mulliner, Master of the Choir of St. Paul's Cathedral, who appears to have been the original owner of the MS., as testified (f. 2) by John Heywood [virginal-player to Edward VI], and who is evidently the "T. M." mentioned below. The composers' names, where known, are appended below. The short biographical notes interspersed throughout the MS. are in the hand of John Stafford Smith, who lent it to Sir John Hawkins in 1774 (see f. 110).

Add. 15233, ff. 1-10.

Paper; mid. 16th cent. Oblong octavo. The MS. contains also the words of a play (vol. ii, p. 224), etc. The signature on f. 45b appears to be in the composer's own hand. In the original stamped leather binding, on which are inscribed the initials S.B.

ORGAN fantasias, written in score, on two staves of 7 or 8 lines, and occasionally on a double staff of 12 or 13 lines, by Master [John] Redford. The first seven leaves of the MS. are missing, and two others between ff. 8 and 9. Most of the names of the original melodies are given, viz:—

Paper; 16th cent. Small folio. See also vol. i, p. 114; vol. ii, pp. 154, 452; and below, under Organ Solos (1647, etc.); and Pianoforte Duets (early 17th cent.). At an early period the MS. was owned by George Moulst (f. 6); large additions were made to it in 1647, etc., by Thomas Tomkins, organist of Worcester (see ff. 2, 217b), and others; and in the 19th cent. it belonged to Robert Smith (bookplate—doubtless the wine-merchant of St. Paul's Church Yard mentioned on f. 222b), T. Jones (before 1826—see beginning), Joseph Warren (1847), and J. Bishop.

COMPOSITIONS for Organ or virginal written on two staves of 5, 6, 7, or 8 lines. Most of them are composed on plainsongs. Nos. 1-50 appear to be in the hand of John Redford, who is probably the author of the anonymous pieces; nos. 51-69, in a hand said by Joseph Warren to resemble that of Tallis, but more probably that of Thomas Preston, the composer of most, if not all, of the pieces in this set; and nos. 72-91 in a third hand.

Vellum; late 16th cent. Small folio. See also vol. i, p. 139.

A COMPOSITION, without name, probably by an Englishman, written on two staves of 7 and 6 (or 5) lines, for Organ or virginal.

Add. 30491, ff. 23-26b.

Paper; after 1607 (?). Folio. See also vol. ii, p. 225.

CAPRICCIO on "Re, fa mi sol," for Organ, by Jean de Macque, in the hand of Luigi Rossi, his pupil.

Add. 29486.

Paper; ff. 84. A.D. 1618 (see f. 81). Oblong octavo. The MS. appears to have belonged, shortly before its acquisition in 1873, to the "Musical Society of London."

ORGAN compositions, written on two staves of 5 lines each. They are founded on the ecclesiastical modes, and are apparently all of them (except nos. 93-95) by Giovanni Gabrieli (see f. 51b), copied in a French hand (see ff. 35b, 36, etc.) after his death.

Paper; ff. 181. A.D. 1628. Small quarto. Said to have belonged to Queen Caroline, Consort of George II, and to have been given afterwards by Thomas James Mathias (Treasurer to Queen Charlotte) to his uncle (?) Gabriel, and by him to H. Cooke (f. 1b).

COMPOSITIONS, apparently for Organ (see no. 26), by Jan Bull, sc. Dr. John Bull, with the possible exceptions of nos. 2, 9-12, 47, and 50-52. Transcribed on two staves of 6 lines shortly before and after his death, 18 January-16 November, 1628, etc., and probably composed while he was organist of Antwerp Cathedral (1617-1628). Many of them are founded on plainsong melodies. There are gaps of fifteen leaves at the beginning and at least thirty-seven at the end (see index).

1. Fantasia, on "Re, re, re, sol, vt, mi, fa, sol." f. 2.
2. "Toccata di Roma (Sexti toni), di Hieronimo Feraboseo." Probably altered by Bull. f. 9b.

Paper; ff. 90. Before 1702? (see f. 37). Oblong octavo.

ORGAN solos by Johann Pachelbel, written on two staves of 5 lines each. They consist of movements founded on the "Magnificat" in the various Ecclesiastical tones, and comprise Fugues (ff. 8b, 64b, 84b, etc.), a "Bicinium" (f. 18b), and Toccatas (ff. 19b, 20b, 22b, etc.). The Toccata on f. 77b is by W. H. P. A second hand—probably that of the composer—appears at f. 73, and continues, with slight intermission, to the end of the MS. The dates on ff. 25 and 37 appear to be those of performance rather than of composition.

Add. 31501, vol. ii (ff. 23-55b), and vol. iii.

Paper; about 1704. Small oblong octavo. See also below (A. 19).

COMPOSITIONS (short) for Organ.

TRANSCRIPTS in the hand of Vincent Novello of the following collections for the Organ, being evidently the MSS. prepared for publication:

I. Cathedral Voluntaries, published in 1831, being arrangements by Novello from sacred works by the following composers:—Aldrich, Attwood, Battishill, Beckwith, Byrd, Blake, Blow, Boyce, Callcott, Child, Jeremiah Clark, B. Cooke, Creighton, Croft, Dupuis, Ebdon, C. Evans, Farrant, Galliard, Orlando Gibbons, Goldwin, Greene, W. Hayes, Humphreys, Kent, C. King, Morley, Nares, Patrick, Pring, Purcell, Reynolds, Richardson, Rogers, Russell, Stroud, Tallis, Travers, Tye, Weldon, S. Wesley, C. Wesley, and Worgan. The order is different from that followed in the published edition, the works of each composer being, in the present MS., kept to a great extent distinct. Appended to each piece is a short account of the composer and of the source from which the MS. is derived. The following are missing:—Nos. 32 (1), 40 (1, 4), 42 (1), 43, 44 (1, 2), 45 (1, 4), 47, 48

(1, 4). The first lines and titles are given in the index. ff. 1-101b, 104b, 114.

II. A few numbers from Select Organ Pieces.

COLLECTION of pieces for the Harpsichord by composers of the first half of the 18th century. Except where the contrary is stated, they are by Hendell (sc. Handel), and are taken from his Suites de Pièces, vols. i and ii (published respectively in 1720 and 1733), to which the volumes and numbers mentioned below refer. Some of the Preludes appear to have been written (? by the compiler) as introductions to the pieces which follow them.

1. Aria with Variations, sc. "The Harmonious Blacksmith." vol. i, no. 5. f. 3.
2. No. 1 of vol. ii (wanting the final Minuet). The Arpeggio at the end has no connection with this, nor with the following piece. f. 4b.
3. No. 7 of vol. ii. f. 7.
4. Prelude in D minor. Anonymous. f. 8b.
5. No. 4 of vol. ii. f. 9.
6. "Sonatina" in D minor. This and no. 7 are published by the Händel-Gesellschaft, in vol. xlviii (see page v, where they are dated about 1710). f. 11.
7. Allemande, Courante, and Saraband (imperfect at the end); written for 2 harpsichords, of which one part is wanting. In C minor. f. 11b.
8. Gigue in D minor. Anonymous. f. 13b.
9. Vivace with variations. "[W.] Babbell." f. 14b.
10. Aria in A. "[J. B.] Loeillet." f. 17b.
11. Minuet in A minor. "Loeillet." f. 18b.
12. Aria in F. "[J. C.] Pepusch." f. 19.
13. No. 6 (without the Prelude). This and nos. 14 and 15 are taken from vol. i of the Suites de Pièces. f. 19b.
14. No. 8 (without the Prelude and Allegro). The Courante is here styled Aria. f. 22.
15. Chaconne (sc. Passacaille), in G minor; from no. 7. f. 24.
16. Prelude, in G minor. Anonymous. f. 25b.
17. "Sonata" (sc. Andante), movement unnamed [Allegro], Gigue, and Overture; from no. 7 of the above vol. i. f. 25b.

116 III. INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC—CHAMBER MUSIC.

18. Minuet, from vol. ii, no. 1. f. 29b.
19. Aria, with variations 2, 4, and 5; from vol. i, no. 3. f. 30.
20. Toccata, Fugue, and Presto; in D. "Fran[cesco] Mancini." f. 31b.
21. Chaconne (vol. ii, no. 2, with a simpler substitute for variations 17-19). f. 34b.
22. "Sinfonia," Fugue, and Trumbo (sc. Trumpet tune). f. 42.
23. Overture to "Amadigi" [1715]. f. 44.
24. Overture to "Otho" [1722]. f. 48.
25. Aria (vivace) in G. "[W.] Babell." f. 49b.

Add. 31467, ff. 1-108, 112-115.

Paper; A.D. 1735. Folio. See also vol. ii, pp. 406, 627.

COLLECTION of Harpsichord Lessons made in 1735 by John Barker, who has formed the various pieces into suites in a rather arbitrary manner (see index at the beginning of the MS.). Nos. 1-25 are, with the exception indicated below, by Handel or (as it is generally spelt here) Handell, most of them varying considerably from the versions published by the Händel-Gesellschaft.

1. Allemande, Courante, Saraband, and Gigue. [No. 4 from Suite de Pièces, 1st set, 1720, from which nos. 2-4, below, are also taken.] f. 3.

8. Allemande, Aria, Minuet, and Gigue [no. 8]. f. 16b.
9. Prelude [the second movement in no. 1], and Allemande, Courante, Saraband and Gigue [no. 7]. f. 19.
10. Allegro, Courante, and Gavotte with variations [no. 8]. f. 22.
11. Adagio in F minor, and Saraband with variations [no. 4 of the same set]. f. 25.
12. Allemande and Courante [no. 6], and Minuet [no. 1 from the same set]. f. 27.
13. Prelude [published by the Händel-Gesellschaft in another key, as Courante, being the first movement in no. 7 of a third set], Chaconne with variations [no. 2 of the 2nd set], and Minuet in G. f. 29b.
14. Prelude and Air with variations [no. 1 of 2nd set], Minuet from the Overture to "Rodelinda," and Gavotte [from Solos for a German Flute, no. 7, 1732]. f. 32.
15. Chaconne with variations [no. 9 of 2nd set]. f. 34b.
16. Air from the Overture to "Cresus" [? by Buononcini], Minuet in [Handel's] "Ariadne," and Gavotte [from his overture to "Lotario"]. f. 37.
17. French horn Air ["Sel l'arco avessi," in "Ammeto"], French horn Minuet [from The Water Music], and Gigue from [the overture to] "Rinaldo." f. 39.
18. Air ["Sciolga dunque al ballo"] in "Il pastor fido," Air in the Overture of "Sosarmes," and Air [from the overture to "Scipione"]. f. 41b.
19. Musette in G. f. 43b.
20. Minuet in "Alcina." f. 44.
21. Air, Minuet, and Gavotte [from the 2nd version of "Il pastor fido"]. f. 44b.
22. Allegro [from Solos for a German Flute, no. 1], Saraband [from "Il

- pastor fido," 2nd version], and Gigue [from "Orlando"]. f. 45.
23. Allegro [from Organ Concertos, op. iv, no. 2]; and Musette and Minuet [from "Alcina"]. f. 47.
24. Prelude [presto from Solos for a German Flute, no. 9], and Bourrée and Minuet [no. 5 of the same collection]. f. 48b.
25. Vivace [from Organ concertos, op. vii, no. 4], and Minuet. f. 49b.

"LIBRO de XLIV. Sonatas modernas, para Clavicordio. Compuestas, por... Domingo Scarlati, Caballero del Orden de Santiago, y Maestro de los Reyes Catholicos, D. Fernando el VI [1746-1759] y Donna Maria Barbara" (d. 1758). Below this is written an inscription imperfectly erased, from which it appears that the present copy belonged to "D. Sebastian, principal Organista de la Real Capella." According to the label on the cover, the whole was composed for Dr. John Worgan and the volume was given by Mrs. Worgan to Charles Wesley, whose signature is on f. 2; but in the Fitzwilliam Museum there is a collection of twenty-four sonatas (about 1750), commencing with the same two (but otherwise different) described as written "Para el... Embaxador de Venecia" (see the Catalogue of the Music in that library, no. 148). A monopoly was granted to Worgan in 1752 for the publication of Domenico Scarlatti's works and he brought out in that year or shortly afterwards a Libro de XII Sonatas, all of which are included in the present collection and are marked below with an asterisk. None of the compositions in this volume are properly to be described as Sonatas, being in one movement. At the end there is a thematic catalogue of the contents of the MS.

WALTZ composed for Mrs. Stone's Album [by M. W. Balfe].

Add. 37056.

Paper; ff. 25. A.D. 1836. Oblong folio.

SONATA in F minor (the original MS.), described by the composer, on a slip pasted in at the beginning of the MS., as "Concert pour Piano seul composé et dédié à Mr. Ignace Moscheles par Robert Schumann. Œuv. 14." For this he afterwards substituted (f. 19), at the request of Haslinger the publisher, the title "[? Zweite] Sonate für das Pianoforte" (see also f. 20). It consisted originally of an Allegro brillante. f. 3;—"Scherzo I° Vivacissimo." f. 8b;—"Scherzo 2^{do} Promenade." f. 12b;—"Quasi Variazioni. Andantino de Clara Wieck" (to whom Schumann appears to have been first engaged in the year of its composition). f. 14;—and a Prestissimo. f. 16b. Of these movements, the two Scherzos were altogether omitted in the first edition; but the second one was restored in the second edition [1853], without the part described as "Intermezzo, molto teneramente" down to the beginning of the Variations (ff. 13-14). The first Scherzo was first published in 1866, by Rieter-Biedermann. A fifth Variation was omitted between those numbered III and IV; and for the first page of the Prestissimo (f. 16b) was substituted that which begins at the top of f. 17, the tempo of this movement being altered from $\frac{6}{16}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$. Numerous other alterations were made by Schumann in the course of composing the "Concerto," by which name he still calls it in a letter to Moscheles dated 30 July, 1836. On f. 2 is the imprimatur of H[aslinger] the publisher, dated 17 June, 1836, addressed to Herr Schönwälder. The composer's signature is given on ff. 1, 2, 3, 14b, 19, as "Robert," "Rob." or "R. Schumann"; and at the end is written "Five. 5^{ten} Juni, 1836."

COLLECTION of Sonatas for violoncello and basso in score, made apparently by Baron Giuseppe dall' Abaco, who is probably the composer of some of those marked below as anonymous. They consist, unless the contrary is stated, of three movements, the most common being Allegro, Minuet, Allegretto, Cantabile, Andante, Adagio, Rondeau, Allegro moderato, Aria, Andantino, Siciliana (Moderato), Largo, Grazioso, Grave, and Aria; with single specimens of Arioso, Allegro non molto, Con Comodo, and a few other movements named below.

1-12. "XII Sonate," by "Giuseppe, barone dall' Abaco." Of this set, no. 4 (f. 9b) is in six movements, including March, "Scoz[z]ese, etc."; no. 9 (f. 22b), in five movements; and nos. 11 and 12 (ff. 28, 31b), in four movements. The Allegro on f. 19b is called "La Zampogna." ff. 1-36.

13-29. Seventeen more Sonatas by "Giuseppe dall' Abaco," apparently autograph. Of these, the one beginning on f. 61 is in five movements, and that beginning on f. 84, in four movements, the last two (ff. 86b, 87) being Allegro "a modo di Viola di gamba," and "Arpeggiato a modo d' Arciliuto." ff. 37-105.

30-35. A set of six Sonatas, including (f. 115b) Largo "sostenuto a modo di Organo." Anonymous. ff. 106-129.

36. Allegro cantabile, Adagio, and "Caccia"; in D. "Gaetano Chiabrano." f. 130.

37. Allegro, Adagietto, and Allegro; in A. "— Porretti." ff. 134-137.

38. Allegro, Andante, and Allegro; in D. "[Stefano] Galeotti" [no. 3 of Sei Sonate, op. 1, published about 1760]. ff. 142-145.

Add. 17801, ff. 17b-47b.

Paper; about 1651, etc. Folio. Said to have been presented by Lock to Charles II in 1672. For other contents, see above, pp. 36, 43; and below, pp. 205, 233.

COMPOSITIONS for 3 strings, in score, by Matthew Lock. Autograph. The MS. is described at the beginning as "Compositions for broken, and whole Consorts...made by Matthew Lock, Composer in Ordinary to his Majestye."

I. "The Little Consort of three parts; containing [ten suites, consisting of] Pavans, Airs, Corants, and Sarabands, for Viols, or Violins; in two several Varieties. The first 20 are for two Trebles, and a Basse; the last 20 for Treble, Tenor, and Bass; to be performed either alone, or [with] Theorbo and Harpsichord." At the end is written, in a rather later hand, "Made att the request of Mr. Wm. Wake for his Schollars, 1651; and printed by John Playford, of the Temple, 1656." In parts. f. 18.

II. "The flatt Consort, for my Cousin Kemble"; containing twenty-four pieces, consisting of alternately a "Fantazie" and either a Courante, Saraband, Gigue, or Galliard. f. 27.

III. "The Broken Consort"; in two parts, of which the first contains six suites (Fantasia, Courante, Air, Saraband). ff. 37b-45b;—and the second, two suites (Pavan, Air, Courante or Galliard). ff. 46, 46b.

Add. 31430, ff. 14-119.

Paper; after 1660 (?). Oblong quarto. On the upper side of the leaves (ff. 41, 69, 97) which appear to have formed the covers of the separate parts, the name of James Hinton is written, in a hand slightly later than that of Playford, where that of John Jenkins would naturally be found. See also above, p. 44.

A COLLECTION of pieces by English composers, for 3 viols, with a basso continuo (except where the contrary is stated) for theorbo, in parts. Apparently in the hand of John Playford, whose initials are at the beginning of each part. In the following descriptions they have been divided into suites or sonatas, as far as possible as originally written.

1. Air, Courante, Saraband, Gigue. This and nos. 2-11 are for 2 trebles and bass, by "William Gregorie." Basso continuo wanting. ff. 15, 43, 71.
2. Pavan, Allemande, Air, Courante, Saraband. ff. 16, 44, 72, 99.
3. Pavan, Air, Courante, Gigue. ff. 17b, 45b, 73b, 100b.

5. Pavan, Allemande, Air, Courante, Saraband, Gigue. ff. 19b, 47b, 75b, 102b.
6. Prelude, Saraband, A Round (se. Rondo?). ff. 21, 49, 77, 104.
7. Allemande, Courante, A Round. ff. 21b, 49b, 77b, 104b.
8. Prelude, Courante, Gavotte, Courante. ff. 22, 50, 78, 104b.
9. Prelude, Courante, Allemande, Courante. ff. 23, 51, 79, 105b.
10. Prelude, Courante, A Round. ff. 24, 52, 80, 106b.
11. Allemande, Courante, A Round. ff. 25, 53, 81, 107.

12-16. Five suites or sonatas (Pavan, Air, Courante, Saraband) for treble, tenor and bass viols, by "Math. Locke." Basso continuo part wanting. They are in F. ff. 26b, 54b, 82b;—in G. ff. 27, 55, 83;—in A minor. ff. 28, 56, 84;—in B \flat . ff. 29, 56b, 84b;—and in D. ff. 29b, 57b, 85b.

Nos. 17-28 are for two trebles and bass, by "John Jenkins," evidently the Twelve Sonatas for two Violins and a Base, with a Thorough-Base for the Organ or Theorbo, published by him in 1660.

17. Pavan, Air, Galliard. ff. 30b, 58b, 86b, 108b.
18. Air, Courante, Air. ff. 31b, 59b, 87b, 109b.
19. Air, Courante, Saraband. ff. 32, 60, 88, 110.
20. Air, Courante, Saraband. ff. 32b, 60b, 88b, 110b.

Add. 30488-30490.

Paper; ff. 20, 20, 20. A.D. 1661-1666. Small folio.

COMPOSITIONS for 1st and 2nd treble and bass-voils, in parts. From a comparison with Add. 31428 (see below, p. 196), it will be seen that they are Fancies by John Jenkins. They are all contained in the latter MS., but in a different order; and are, as there, for the most part divided into sets of three pieces. The dates given below, those of the correction of the MS., are apparently autograph. In three volumes, the foliation, as far as no. 18, being identical in each volume.

37. One. "Henry Purscell." The autograph of this is in Add. 30930 (f. 70, reversed—see below), written about 1680. ff. 17b, 34b, 51b, 68b.

Add. 30930, ff. 71-69b (reversed), 43b-30 (reversed).

Paper; about 1680-1683. Folio. See also below, pp. 209, 227, 234; etc.

COMPOSITIONS, for 3 instruments, in score, by Henry Purcell. Autograph.

- 1-3. Three Fantasias for violin, viola, and bass. f. 71.
- 4-11. Sonatas for 2 violins and a bass, with a basso continuo to most of them; forming nos. 1, 2, 3, 9 (the two last numbers without basso continuo), 7, 8 (with basso continuo partially filled in), 4 (the first few notes only), and 10, of the 2nd set of Ten Sonatas, published in 1697. f. 43b.

Add. 31431, parts i and ii, passim.

Paper; belonged in 1680 to Sir Gabriel Roberts. Oblong octavo. See also above, p. 177.

"CONSORTS of 3 parts, vizt 2 trebles and 1 Bass, with a Bas. contin." 1st and 2nd treble parts, except in nos. 165-184, which have only one treble part. In two volumes. The foliation below refers to both volumes, unless the contrary is stated, vol. i containing the 1st treble, and vol. ii the 2nd treble.

- 1-62. "The Royall Consort": a collection of sixty-two short pieces [Pavans, Allemandes, Aires, Courantes, Sara-bands, etc.—conf. 10445 and 31433, below]. "William Lawes." According to the inscription on f. 1b, the

- MS. contained originally also a tenor part to this set, no doubt in lieu of a bass. The work from which the present MS. was copied appears to have contained sixty-six pieces, of which those originally numbered 20-22 and 48 are wanting (as also in 31433). ff. 2-29.
- 63-86. A collection of twenty-four pieces, divided into six suites, each consisting of Fancy, Courantes ("Eccho," f. 35b), Air or Allemande, and Saraband. "Mathew Locke." ff. 29b-41.
- 87-90. Four pieces, namely Allegro in C, Grave ending Vivace in C, Largo in D minor, and a piece in three short movements (Grave con tremolo, Vivace, Allegro) in D minor; the four movements forming together (as in the duplicate copy, f. 67b) a Sonata. "Mauritio Cazzati" (d. 1677). They appear to be early specimens of the Sonata. ff. 41b, 42b, 43b, 44b.
- 91-129. Thirty-nine short pieces without titles. "John Jenkins." ff. 45b-57.
- 130-140. Eleven pieces by "Doct^r [Christopher?] Gibbons":—Sonata, three Airs and Courante, in A minor. ff. 57b-58;—Fantasia, Air, and Courante, in D minor. ff. 59b, 60;—Fantasia, Air, and movement without title, in D minor. ff. 60b-62.
141. "Curtaine tune." "Mathew Locke." f. 62b.
- 142-164. Twenty-two "Italian sonatas," of which the one here numbered 5 is by Maurizio Cazzati (conf. ff. 41b, 43b), and presumably also the others; among them is inserted (f. 70b) a twenty-third by "[Isaac?] Blackwell." They contain for the most part four movements, but occasionally three only, and once (f. 65b) as many as five movements, consisting chiefly of Adagio, Grave, Largo, Allegro, Vivace, Presto, and (once) Larghissimo. ff. 63b-87b.
- 165-184. "Mr. John Jenkins his Lira (sc. viola da gamba) Consort, harpe-way flat, for 3 parts:—viz^t 1 lira, 1 treble, 1 bass": consisting of twenty short pieces without title. Treble part. According to the note on f. 89b only the first fourteen are by Jenkins. vol. ii, ff. 91-96b.

Add. 29283-29285, passim.

Paper; A.D. 1682-1691. Oblong octavo. The original owner appears to have been Thomas Fuller, 1682 (see vol. i, f. 1). The MS. belonged in 1840 to Joseph Warren. See also vol. ii, p. 230; and below (pp. 209, 236; part v, section i; part v, section viii).

COMPOSITIONS, original and arranged, for 2 trebles and a bass, in parts. Many of them appear to be taken from published sets, the figures at the beginning of each piece referring to its number in the publication. In three volumes.

- 1-8. Eight pieces without titles. "Hilton." i, f. 3b; ii, iii, f. 2b.
- 9-25. Seventeen pieces without titles. "[J.] Withie." i, f. 6; ii, iii, f. 5.
- 26-41. Sixteen pieces, one of which is styled Prelude. "[Anthony?] Wood," 1682 (see i, f. 1). i, f. 10b; ii, iii, f. 9b.
- 42-81. "Matthew Locke his little Consort" [1656]. Forty pieces. i, f. 20; ii, f. 19; iii, f. 18.
- 82-93. Twelve pieces, including two sets of Variations, Scotch Tune, Jig, Presto, and "Brawl" (sc. Branle). i, f. 57b-58;—Fantasia, Air, and Courante, in D minor. ff. 59b, 60;—Fantasia, Air, and movement without title, in D minor. ff. 60b-62.
- 94-99. Six pieces without titles. "Ric. Girdler," 1682. i, f. 35b; ii, f. 34b; iii, f. 31b.
- 100-104. Five pieces, of which the last is called "Le Bouffon." "Baptist [Lully?]" and (? nos. 101 and 103) Dr. Blow." i, f. 37; ii, f. 36; iii, f. 33.
- 105-114. Ten pieces, beginning with an Overture, 1682. Anonymous. i, f. 38b; ii, f. 37b; iii, f. 34b.
- 115-123. Nine pieces without titles.

192 III. INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC--CHAMBER MUSIC.

Add. 31423, ff. 6-62b passim, and 172-215.

Paper; mid. 17th cent. Folio. See also below, p. 257.

COLLECTION of pieces apparently for 4 viols in the hand of John Jenkins. Imperfect parts.

- 1, 2. Pavan and "Al[le]mand" Pavan, in C minor. These and nos. 3-28 are the treble, alto, and bass parts of some 4-part compositions, arranged according to keys, presumably by Jenkins. ff. 6, 31, 56.
 3-5. Allemande, Air, Allemande; in C minor. ff. 6b, 31b, 56b.
 6. Piece without title, in C minor. ff. 7, 32, 57.
 7-9. Allemande, Piece without title, Air; in C. ff. 7b, 32b, 57b.
 10, 11. Piece without title and Allemande, in C. ff. 8, 33, 58.
 12, 13. Two Allemandes, in F. ff. 8b, 33b, 58b.
 14, 15. Piece without title in F, Pavan in G minor. ff. 9, 34, 59.
 16, 17. Allemande and Air, in G minor. ff. 9b, 34, 59b.
 18. Allemande in G minor. ff. 10, 34b, 60.
 19. Piece without title, in G minor. ff. 10, 35, 60.
 20, 21. Allemande and Piece without title, in G minor. ff. 10b, 35b, 60b.
 22, 23. Pavan and Allemande, in G. ff. 11, 36, 61.
 24, 25. Air and Allemande, in G. ff. 11b, 36b, 61b.
 26. Piece without title, in G. ff. 12, 37, 62.
 27, 28. Two pieces without titles, in D. ff. 12b, 37, 62b.
 Of the remaining numbers the treble and bass parts only are given; but, as no. 32 is known to have been written for 4 viols, it is presumed that the others are also for that combination of instruments.
 29. Pavan in C minor. This and nos. 30-51 (short pieces) are numbered to form a set, and arranged according to keys. ff. 172, 194.
 30. Piece without title (Courante?), in C minor. "J. Jenkins." ff. 172, 194.
 31. Pavan in G minor. "J. Jenkins." ff. 172b, 194b.
 32. Pavan in G minor. "S. Ives." ff. 173, 195.
 33. Piece without title, in G minor. "C. Coleman." ff. 173, 195.
 34. Another in G minor. "— Taylor." ff. 173b, 195b.
 35. Pavan in G. "Deering." ff. 173b, 195b.
 36. Piece without title, in G. "C. Coleman." ff. 174, 196.
 37. Another in G. "W. Lawes." ff. 174, 196.
 38. Another in G. "W. Lawes." ff. 174b, 196b.
 39. Another in G. "J. Jenkins." ff. 174b, 196b.
 40. Pavan in A minor. "Maurice Webster." ff. 175, 197.

41. Pavan in A minor. "Jenkins." ff. 175, 197.
42. Pavan in F. "Webster." ff. 175b, 197b.
43. Piece without title, in F. "Taylor." ff. 175b, 197b.
- 44, 45. Pavan and Piece without title, in F. These and nos. 46-51 are by "Jenkins." ff. 176, 198.
- 46, 47. Two pieces without titles, in F and C. ff. 176b, 198b.
- 48, 49. Air and Saraband, in G minor. ff. 177, 199.
- 50, 51. Air and Courante, in D minor. ff. 177b, 199b.

The twelve pieces which follow in the MS., probably by Jenkins, form three quasi-suites, viz. :—

52. Air, Air, Courante, Saraband. ff. 178, 200.
53. Another suite, similarly constituted. ff. 179, 201.
54. Three Airs and Courante. ff. 179b, 201b.

The next set consists of twenty-five pieces which, although arranged to a great extent according to keys, do not form suites properly so-called. The composer is not named, but is probably Jenkins.

- 55, 56. Two Airs. ff. 181b, 203b.
- 57, 58. Courante and Piece without title, in D minor. ff. 182, 204.
- 59, 60. Pavan and Air, in D. ff. 182b, 204b.
61. Allemande in A. ff. 183, 205.
- 62, 63. Two Airs in A. ff. 183b, 205b.

64. Courante in A. ff. 184, 206.
- 65, 66. Saraband in A, and Air in E (unfinished). ff. 184b, 206b.
67. Air in E. ff. 185, 207.
- 68, 69. Courante and Saraband, in E minor. ff. 185b, 207b.
70. Air in G. ff. 186, 208.
- 71, 72. Two Airs, in G and A. ff. 186b, 208b.
- 73, 74. Courante and Saraband, in A. ff. 187, 209.
- 75, 76. Saraband in A, and Piece without title in D. ff. 187b, 209b.
77. Gigue in D. ff. 188, 210.
78. Air in D minor. ff. 188b, 210b.
79. Courante in D minor. ff. 189, 211.

The remaining set consists of nineteen pieces, arranged similarly to the last set, probably most of them by Jenkins.

- 80-82. Three Airs in C minor. At the end of no. 81 are the initials "L. N." ff. 189b, 211b.
- 83, 84. Air and Saraband, in C minor. ff. 190, 212.
- 85-87. Three Airs in D minor. ff. 190b, 212b.
- 88-90. Courante, and two Airs in D minor, the first by "L. K." [? Luder Knoep], the second by "M. C." [? Maurizio Cazzati]. ff. 191, 213.
- 91-93. Two Airs and Courante, in B \flat . ff. 191b, 213b.
- 94, 95. Two Airs, the first in B \flat ; the second (described as "favourite") in D. ff. 192, 214.
- 96-98. Air, Courante, and Saraband; in D. ff. 192b, 214b.

Add. 36993, passim.

A COMPOSITION without words, in 5 parts, in quasi-score (the bass occupying the top stave, and the treble the bottom stave). Anonymous.

Add. 37402-37406, passim.

Paper; after 1601 (date of latest known compositions). Oblong octavo. For owners' names, see Catalogue of Additions, 1906. See also below, under Sextets (p. 232); and (in the Appendix) under Anthems, Motets, Services, and Madrigals.

COMPOSITIONS in 5 parts, intended to be played by viols, though most of them are Italian madrigals, under which latter heading those with words are described. Most of them are anonymous, the names given below being chiefly supplied from other sources. In five volumes, containing respectively Trebles i and ii, Contra-tenor, Quintus, and Bassus. The dates below are mostly taken from Collections of 5-part Madrigals published by the composers in question.

"OCTO MELODIE octo modorum harmonice factae, ut modulabantur saeculo vii ad praescriptum Adami de Fulda et Franchini Gaforij"; in the hand of Abbé Fortunato Santini, by whom they appear to have been collected, and in part harmonized, for his friend the Rev. Edward Goddard. They are set to the opening words of the "Gloria Patri," or the Psalm "In Exitu Israel." Besides the authors mentioned above, Santini quotes Zarlino; and, according to the Rev. Thomas Helmore (who annotated the volume in 1868), he probably also used a work of Altieri's published in 1840. Helmore has himself collated portions of the MS. with another supposed to be the work of Giuseppe Baini.

SECTION IV.—SKETCH-BOOKS.*

Add. 29801, ff. 39–162.

Paper; about 1784–1800. Oblong folio. See also vol. ii, pp. 5, 47; and the Table of MSS., above.

A COLLECTION of leaves roughly arranged, containing sketches of compositions by Beethoven, apparently commenced as early as 1784 (supposed date of Concerto in A, sketched on f. 154b). The inscription on f. 38 “Notirungsbuch F” appears to refer to another sketch-book. The present MS. is bound up with one of a similar nature dating from about 1811. A considerable portion of the sketches has been identified, largely from Mr. J. S. Shedlock’s articles in the Musical Times (1892) and G. Nottebohm’s Beethoveniana and Zweite Beethoveniana; and is described elsewhere.

Add. 30392.

Paper; ff. 96. A.D. 1790–1795. Quarto.

SKETCH-BOOK of compositions by Dr. William Crotch. For the contents, see vol. i, p. 75.

Add. 29295.

Paper; ff. 170. About 1797–1805. Oblong folio.

SKETCHES of compositions in the hand of C[harles] Weichsel, with extracts from the works of [Ludwig] Spohr (ff. 119b–123, 132), [Joseph] Mayseder (ff. 124–127b), [Friedrich Ernst] Fesca (ff. 125b, 128b, 130b), and [Louis Charles] Maucourt (f. 132b), most of them apparently written for the violin, etc. For those portions of the MS. which it has been possible to classify, see above, p. 16.

* Under this heading are described those portions of the sketch-books which it has been found impossible to classify under any other heading.

Add. 17821–17833, passim.

Paper; 18th–19th cent. Oblong folio and quarto, etc.

SKETCH-BOOKS of compositions, chiefly for the double bass, by Domenico Dragonetti, with numerous explanatory notes in the hand of his friend Vincent Novello, who presented the MSS. to the British Museum in 1849. For the compositions which have been identified, see vol. i, p. 464; vol. ii, pp. 88, 370, 604; and in the Table of MSS., above.

Add. 32237.

Paper; ff. 114. 18th–19th cent. Oblong folio.

COMPOSITIONS, vocal and instrumental, most of them unfinished and some only sketched in pencil, in the hand of Hummel. For those which have been more or less identified, see vol. ii, p. 319, etc.

Add. 31766.

Paper; ff. 60. A.D. 1808. Oblong folio.

SKETCH-BOOK [by Beethoven], containing chiefly sketches for the Pastoral symphony. It is dated at the beginning 1808, and evidently belongs to the first half of that year. According to Gustav Nottebohm, who has given an account of the MS. in his Zweite Beethoveniana (pp. 252, 369, etc.), twenty-eight or twenty-nine leaves have been lost; two have certainly been cut out (between ff. 42 and 43) since the original numeration. Dr. F[erdinand] S[imon] Gassner of Carlsruhe received the MS. in Vienna from Anton Graeff in 1842. For those portions which have been identified, see the Table of MSS., above.

Add. 29801. ff. 1–37.

Paper; about 1811. Oblong folio. See also vol. ii, p. 399.

“BEETHOVEN. Skizzenbuch. B”: consisting almost exclusively of “Skizzen zu den ‘Ruinen von Athen,’” with a few (ff. 11, 11b) “zu ‘König Stephan.’” Three leaves have been lost. It has been bound up with an earlier sketch-book (see above, p. 291).

Eg. 2795.

Paper; ff. 16. About 1825. Octavo.

SKETCH-BOOK of compositions by Beethoven, assigned to the above year as containing chiefly sketches of the quartets (op. 130–133), described above, p. 214. There are also several in $\frac{3}{4}$ time (ff. 6–8).

Add. 29997.

Paper; ff. 42. About 1826, etc. Oblong folio.

SKETCHES of musical compositions in the hand of Beethoven. The volume may be divided into two portions, of which the former (ff. 2–5) contains what appear to be sketches of the C \sharp minor quartet, op. 131 (see above, p. 215); and the latter, miscellaneous sketches, most of them apparently dating from the end of the 18th and beginning of the 19th century. Those which have been more or less identified (one or two of them from information supplied by Mr. J. S. Shedlock) have been already described (see vol. i, p. 381; vol. ii, pp. 9, 399, 626; above, pp. 10, 129, etc.; and below, part v, section i). On f. 33 is a fragment of a movement in $\frac{2}{4}$ time and the beginning of an Andante affettuoso assai in F (common time), apparently from a pianoforte quartet or string quintet. On f. 14 is the date 1815. The figures 816 (f. 9) and the address "Seilerstat[te] N $^{\circ}$ 855" (f. 13) would appear to connect that portion of the MS. (ff. 9-13) with the year 1816, in which Beethoven is known to have been residing in that neighbourhood.

Add. 32669-32672.

Paper; ff. 113, 49, 45, 95. About 1836-1865. Oblong quarto and folio.

SKETCH-BOOKS by Michael William Balfe, containing, besides various nondescript musical pieces, compositions described elsewhere (see vol. ii, pp. 22-3, 425-7, 430, 432-3, 635-6, 638; and above, pp. 40, 146).

SECTION I.—TREATISES.*

“ΚΛΕΟΝΕΙΔΟΥ Εἰσαγωγή ‘Ἀρμονική’”; published in 1557 as the work of Euclid, but probably rather earlier, its doctrine coinciding with that of Aristoxenus (b. about B.C. 354). The exact date of Cleonides is not known (see art. EUCLIDE in Fétis’ Biographie Universelle). The treatise begins “Ἀρμονικὴ ἐστὶν ἐπιστήμη.” Add. 27863, ff. 108–121 (16th cent.).

BOOKS i and ii, and the beginning of Bk. iii, of “Περὶ μουσικῆς,” by Aristides Quintilian. Begins “Ἀεὶ μὲν ἐμοὶ θαυμάζειν.” [Meibom, 1652.] Harl. 5691, ff. 94–133b (16th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY of the work by Aristides Quintilian, in the same hand. Add. 19353, ff. 169–236b (16th cent.).

THE “HARMONICA” of Claudius Ptolemaeus, translated into Latin by Nicolaus Leoniceus of Ferrara, at the instigation of Pietro Barotio, bishop of Padua, and Franchino Gaforio. Transcribed in 1499 by the latter, whose arms are on f. 3. Harl. 3306 (ff. 46).

“ΚΛΑΥΔΙΟΥ ΠΤΟΛΕΜΑΙΟΥ Ἀρμονικῶν [βιβλίον γ’]”; with diagrams and (at the end) an index of the contents. Begins “Ἀρμονικὴ ἐστὶ δύναμις.” Published by Dr. John Wallis, in 1682, with a Latin translation. Burn. 101, ff. 2–96b (16th cent.).

* Under this heading are included also short notes and fragments of larger works, relating to the theory of music and singing, as well as diagrams of modes and scales, etc. They are arranged as far as possible under the date of the original authors, where known. The abbreviations Gerb. and Couss. refer to Martin Gerbert’s Scriptores ecclesiastici de Musicâ (1784). and E. de Coussemaker’s Scriptores de Musicâ (1869).

ANOTHER COPY of Claudius Ptolemæus' work : with diagrams, and marginal and interlinear scholia in Greek. 16th cent. Burn. 102 (ff. 68).

ATHENÆUS, "Deipnosophistæ," in Greek [ed. pr. 1514]: the musical portions, sc. Bks. iv, xiv, containing descriptions of musical instruments, especially as used in the dance, accounts of flute-players, different forms of songs, etc. 16 C. xxiv, ff. 56-61b, 305-319 (15th cent.).

EPITOME of the same, in Greek. 16 D. x, ff. 39b-43, 224-233 (16th cent.).

"ΠΟΡΦΥΡΙΟΥ εἰς τὴν Ἀρμονικὴν Πτολεμαίου [ἐπιόμνημα]": a commentary on the "Harmonica" of Claudius Ptolemæus, with an index at the end. Begins "Τὴν μουσικὴν πᾶσαν." The preface is wanting. Burn. 101, ff. 97-172b (16th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY of Porphyry's commentary on the "Harmonica" of Claudius Ptolemæus, containing also the preface, "Πολλῶν αἰρέσεων," omitted in Burn, 101 (above). The original ascription, "Πορφυρίου" (?), has been altered into "[Μαρούηλ] Βρεννίου," but the work is quite distinct from that writer's "Harmonica." 16th cent. Burn. 103 (ff. 125).

ANOTHER COPY of Porphyry's commentary (with diagrams), as far as Bk. ii, ch. 6. Add. 19353, ff. 33-168b (16th cent.).

"ἈΛΥΠΙΟΥ μουσικὴ εἰσαγωγή" [ed. pr. 1616]. Alypius appears to have flourished in the 4th century (but see Fétis' Biographie Universelle). Add. 19353, ff. 237-254b (16th cent.).

"ἈΡΙΣΤΟΞΕΝΟΥ ἁρμονικῶν στοιχείων [βιβλία γ]," beginning "Τῆς περὶ μέλους" [ed. pr. 1616]. Add. 19353, ff. 2-32b (16th cent.).

TRANSLATION of part of "The first Book of the Elements of Harmony by Aristoxenus"; by Dr. Callcott. Add. 27647, ff. 2-6 (A.D. 1797).

"EXCE[R]PTIONES de Musicâ S[ancti Aurelii] Augustini," beginning "Rixas verborum libenter pretereo." They are rather abstracts than extracts, taken at random from St. Augustine's six books on Music [ed. pr. 1530]. 4 B. x, ff. 69b-74b (early 13th cent.).

"AURELI AUGUSTINI... de Musicâ [Libri i-v]," beginning "Modus quis pes." Harl. 228, ff. 111-158b (13th cent.).

COMPLETE COPY of the same work, "De Musicâ Libri vi," by St. Augustine. Belonged to Worcester priory. 5 C. vi, ff. 1-28 (13th-14th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY. Belonged to Simon, Abbot of Ramsey. 5 D. x, ff. 30-48 (14th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY, transcribed, by Joannes [Tortelli] Arretinus, Venice, 1423. The interlocutors in the dialogue are here named M[agister] and D[iscipulus]. It is preceded by a copy, in the same hand, of the author's introductory letter to Memorius. Harl. 5248, ff. 1-121b.

IMPERFECT EXTRACTS from the "De Musicâ Libri v" of Boethius [ed. pr. 1492]. The numbers of the chapters are given below as in Migne's Patrologia, lxiii, col. 1178, etc. Harl. 3595 (10th cent.).

"MUSICALIS INSTITUTIO, a Boetio in Latinum translata de Greco" (!), sc. the treatise "De Musicâ" by Boethius. Begins "[O]mnium quidem perceptio sensuum." Ar. 77, ff. 6b-62 (11th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY, Bks. i and ii only, probably written in France; with glosses, marginal notes, and a few diagrams illustrative of the text. Harl. 2688, ff. 55-66b (11th cent.).

IMPERFECT COPY of the same, apparently written in England. There are gaps of one or two leaves after ff. 14 and 41, and of one leaf after ff. 20 and 29. Late 12th cent. Harl. 5237 (ff. 42).

ANOTHER COPY, written in England, with diagrams very similar to those published in the 1492 edition of his works. A leaf is missing after f. 34, but none at the end (in spite of the inscription there to that effect). Belonged to John Theyer in the 17th century. 15 B. ix, ff. 3-49b (12th-13th cent.).

A RICHLY ILLUMINATED COPY of the same, containing a "Prohemium" to Bk. v not given in the 1492 edition.

The conjectural reading of the inscription (half erased) on f. 2 is:—"Liber [diversarum] liberalium artium quem dedit Regi R. dominus Franciscus Carachioli (?) Cancellarius Parisiensis" [ff. 1311]. The R. is supposed to represent Robert of Anjou, King of Naples. The arms of Caraccioli of Pisciotta, to which branch the Chancellor belonged, are inserted in several of the illuminated borders. For a further description of the MS., see the printed Catalogue of Arundel and Burney MSS. Burn. 275, ff. 359b-390 (early 14th cent.).

EXTRACTS from the same work, Bk. i, chapters 1 and 21. At the end of a MS. by N. Burzio. Add. 22315, ff. 65, 65b (about 1473-1478).

ANOTHER COPY, with the alternative title "De Armonica Institutione": a beautifully written MS., with the Medici arms (ff. 1b, 2), probably executed for Leo I. before he became pope (1513). After the words "nusquam una" with which the work usually ends, are added the words "Longobardorum inuidia." Lansd. 842 A, ff. 107-163b.

EXTRACT from the same (Bk. i, ch. 1), beginning "Ἐπεὶ ἂν Τυμολέος ὁ Μιλησιος." Two copies, with a Latin translation written under the first. Joseph Scaliger describes the passage as "Δόγμα Σ[π]αρτιατῶν κατὰ τῆς Τυμολέου τοῦ Μιλησίου περὶ τὸν ἀριθμὸν τῶν χορδῶν καινοτομίας." Sloane 2764, ff. 128-129b (17th cent.).

CASSIODORUS, "Secularium Litterarum Liber secundus," or (as it is described on f. 52) "Liber Institutionum humanarum Rerum." Chapter 5, "De Musicâ." Belonged to St. Nicholas' Hospital, near Cues, on the Moselle. Harl. 2637, ff. 38b-44 (9th cent.).

ISIDORE, "Etymologie" [ed. pr. 1472]: the musical portions, sc. Bk. iii, ch. 9 ("Inter arithmetica et geometria"); and chapters 15-23, "De Musicâ" (beginning "Musica est peritia* modulationis"). Harl. 2686, ff. 35-38b, and Harl. 3941, ff. 39b-44b (9th cent.); Ar. 129, ff. 33b-37, and 6 C. i, ff. 26-28 (10th cent.); Harl. 3099, ff. 25-27b (A.D. 1134 ?); Harl. 2660, ff. 26b-29 (A.D. 1136 ?); Add. 15603, ff. 31-33b (mid. 12th cent.); Burn. 326, ff. 36b-40, and 12 F. iv, ff. 48-50b (12th cent.); Add. 22797, ff. 24-26 (early 13th cent.); Burn. 328, ff. 31b-34 (13th-14th cent.); Eg. 630, f. 224b (Bk. iii, ch. 15-23, 14th cent.); Eg. 2835, ff. 19-23, and Harl. 6, ff. 23b-25b (14th cent.); Lansd. 433, ff. 67, 67b (fragment, 14th cent.); Add. 21998, ff. 53b-56b (14th cent.); Harl. 3151, ff. 26-32b (Bk. iii only, 14th-15th cent.); Add. 22798, ff. 14b-16 (beg. 15th cent.).

LETTER of Helisachar [Abbot of S. Ricquier] to Nidibrius (sc. Nidibridius), Archbishop of Narbonne, about an Antiphonal which he was engaged in compiling at the instigation of the Archbishop. Begins "Reverendissimo meritoque venerando Nidibrio." For other contents, see above. Harl. 2637, ff. 53b-55 (10th cent.).

TREATISE, beginning "Musicam disciplinam," by Aurelianus Reomensis. Chapters 1, 2, 5, and portions of chapters 8, 10, 11 [Gerb. i, 27]. Ar. 77, ff. 1-3 (11th cent.).

"SC[OLICA] ENCHIRIADIS de Musicâ," beg. "Sicut voces (sic) articulatae"; usually ascribed to Hucbald, a monk of St. Amand-sur-Eluon, in Flanders. It is properly "Musica Enchiriadis" [Gerb. i, 152], the "Scholica Enchiriadis" ("Musica, quid est"), beginning at f. 71. Ar. 77, ff. 63b-87b (11th cent.).

* Scientia, in Harley 2686.

ANOTHER COPY of "Musica Enchyriadis," followed (f. 32) without a break by the "Scholica Enchyriadis." Add. 17808, ff. 23-49b (11th cent.).

THE BEGINNING, chapters 9 to 15 (middle), and the first half of ch. 17, of the "Musica Enchiriadis." Harl. 3199, ff. 65-69b (13th cent.).

"QUID EST MUSICA? Veraciter canendi scientia"; preceded by the prologue ("Petistis obnixè"). Both are published by Gerbert (i, 251), as the work of Odo of Cluny, but they are not in Bigne's edition of the latter's works (1609). It is no doubt the Enchiridion referred to in Add. 17808 (below, p. 299). The diagrams are omitted in the present MS., though spaces are generally left for them. Add. 10335, ff. 14b, 15b (11th-12th cent.).

"TERCIUS LIBER . . . Guidonis in musicam sub dialogo": another copy of the same work. It is preceded (f. 24b) by a prologue beg. "Quicquid igitur auctoritate philosophorum," and (f. 25) by another version of the commencement of the dialogue, beginning with the same words. Published by Gerbert (i, 252), but with another prologue, and without the second version, as the work of Odo of Cluny. The passage beg. "Quantumcunque uero omnium modorum" (f. 32) and ending "quantum similiores" (f. 33b) is also omitted by Gerbert, as well as the eighteen concluding verses (beg. "Ecce patet"); the passage beg. "Hæc pauca" (f. 33b) is printed by him at the end of Guido's letter to Michael (as in Add. 4915, below), and certainly is out of place here, referring, as it does, to the Enchiridion of Odo of Cluny as if it were distinct from the present dialogue. At the end is written "Explicunt toni Guidonis." Harl. 281, ff. 24b-33b (14th cent.).

"EXPLANATIO Artis Musicæ sub Dialogo": substantially the same as the preceding work, but with considerable textual variations. Add. 4915, ff. 33b-45 (before 1778).

"RATIO BREVITER EXCERPTA de Musicâ," beginning "Quinque sunt consonantiæ musicæ." Anonymous, probably of the 10th century. The first two leaves (with the exception of the last three lines) correspond with the version printed by Gerbert (i, 338), but the remaining part (giving a detailed account of the eight ecclesiastical "tropi" or modes as sung in various antiphons, etc.) is omitted by him, an entirely different ending (occupying one page) being substituted for it. Add. 17808, ff. 50-55b (11th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY: beginning only. Harl. 3199, f. 70b (13th cent.).

"CITA ET VERA DIUISIO monochordi in diatonico genere," beginning "Dimidium proslambanomenos est mese": the first few lines of Bernelinus' treatise [Gerb. i, 313], the first part of which is copied verbatim from Huchald's "De musicâ." For a description of the rest of the MS., see below. Sloane 1621, f. 4 (11th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY: beginning only. Harl. 3199, ff. 69b-70 (13th cent.).

THE "TONARIUS" of Berno Augiensis, beginning (f. 92b) "Autenticus protus"; preceded by the prologue. The work itself was first printed, in 1784, by Gerbert (ii, 79), the prologue having been printed by Bernard Pez in 1721. Ar. 77, ff. 87b-98 (11th cent.).

"DOMINO Deoque dilecto...Pilgrino [Archbishop of Cologne]...Bern[o Augiensis, sc. of Reichenau]", beginning "Omnis igitur regularis Monocordi Constitutio": being the prologue to his "Tonarius." Add. 4915, ff. 45-59 (before 1778).

TREATISES, etc., relating to music, by Guido d'Arezzo: probably written in France. Add. 17808 (11th cent.).

1. "Micrologus, id est Brevis Sermo in Musicâ, compositus a Domino Guidone [Aretino]"; preceded by some prefatory verses ("Gymnasio musas placuit renouare solutas"), and the "Epistola Guidonis ad Teodaldum Aretinæ Civitatis Episcopum" (beg. "Divini timoris"), which runs without a break (in the present MS.) into the Prologue ("Cum me et naturalis conditio"). Ch. 1 of the "Micrologus" begins "Igitur qui nostram disciplinam petit." M. Hermesdorff assigns the date to 1024-5. [Gerb. ii, beginning.] f. 1b.
2. "Musicorum et cantorum magna est distantia": a long poem printed in Gerbert, immediately after the "Micrologus," as "Musicæ Guidonis regulæ rhythmicæ in Antiphonarii sui prologum prolatæ." It is preceded (as in Gerbert) by some explanatory verses, beg. "Gliscunt corda." f. 11b.
3. "Temporibus nostris super omnes homines fatui sunt cantores": described at the end as "quasi in prologum Antiphonarii de modorum et neumarum formulis . . . prosaice dicta." Printed in Gerbert, immediately after no. 2, as "Alie Guidonis Regulæ de ignoto cantu," being followed there by the treatise known by the latter title, which is however omitted in the present MS., the reader being referred back to the "Micrologus," as well as to the "Enchiriadis" of Odo of Cluny (see Add. 10335. above, p. 298), in a passage beg. "Hæc pauca" (bottom of f. 18), printed by Gerbert at the end of the following article (no. 4). f. 17.
4. "Aut dura sunt tempora": a letter [de ignoto cantu], addressed by "G[uido]," "Beatissimo . . . fratri M[ichaeli]," formerly a fellow-monk in Pomposa Abbey. Printed by Gerbert after the treatise "De ignoto cantu" alluded to above (no. 3). The celebrated words "Ut queant laxis" are replaced in the present MS. by those of the second verse "Trinum et unum." The passage beg. "Hæc pauca," printed by Gerbert (as referred to above), is omitted here. ff. 18b-22b.

TREATISES, etc., by Guido d'Arezzo. Conf. Add. 17808 (above). Add. 10335 (11th-12th cent.).

1. The "Micrologus," preceded by part of the prologue (the beginning lost), and the capitula or table of contents. There are gaps of single leaves after ff. 5b and 8b, and of several leaves at the end (from the end of ch. 18); and the greater part of ch. 10 and some of the diagrams (printed by Gerbert) are omitted. ff. 1-10b.
2. The conclusion of "Temporibus nos-

- tris," with music expressed by neums on a staff of 3 plain lines. f. 11.
3. The letter to Frater Michael. A long passage which should follow the diagram on f. 14 is here omitted. ff. 11-14.
4. "Gliscunt corda." f. 14b.

EXTRACTS from the Micrologus, and other works, by Guido d'Arezzo. Harl. 3199 (13th cent.).

1. "De constitutionibus in Musicâ" [from the "Regulæ Musicæ Rhythmicæ" of Guido d'Arezzo]. f. 55b.
2. "Temporibus nostris." f. 56b.
3. "Ad inveniendum ignotum cantum": the latter portion of Guido's epistle to Michael, containing (f. 59b) the hymn "Ut queant laxis." ff. 58b-65.
4. "De Tonis," beg. "Tonus dualem significationem habet." Rather similar to the "Procemium Tonarii" of Odo of Cluny [Gerb. i, 248]. Probably by Guido. f. 74.
5. "Prologus in musicam Guidonis," beg. "Dum (sic) me et naturalis conditio" [the "Micrologus," as far as the middle of ch. 15]. ff. 79-88b.
6. "Quod si ipsam b mollem uis omnino non habere" ["Micrologus," middle of ch. 8 to beginning of ch. 14]. ff. 91b-94b.

TREATISES, or portions of treatises, by Guido d'Arezzo (conf. Add. 17808, above, p. 299). Written in long lines, probably in Germany. Ar. 339 (13th-14th cent.).

1. "Micrologus," preceded by the usual prefatory verses, the epistle to Theodaldus (here called prologus), the usual prologue, beg. "Dum me naturalis condicio," and the capitula. f. 98.
2. "Rithmi," sc. "Regulæ rhythmicæ." f. 104.
3. "Temporibus nostris." f. 106.
4. "Aut dura sunt tempora." ff. 107-109b.

TREATISES by Guido d'Arezzo, about whose date the 17th century fly-leaves at the beginning contain conjectures. Said to have belonged to Sir Christopher Wren. Harl. 281 (14th cent.).

1. "Micrologus . . . in planam musicam." Besides the usual introductory matter contained in Add. 17808 (see above, p. 299) and elsewhere, published by Gerbert, there is a "prefacio auctoris," beg. "Cum iam etatis nostre," immediately preceding the epistle to Theodaldus, as well as another prologue beg. "Sepe et multum grauitur elaborare perstudui." Some passages not printed by Gerbert are found in chapters 18 and 20 (here numbered 19); ch. 19 is omitted altogether. f. 5.
2. "Liber secundus eiusdem [Guidonis] in planam musicam quem appellat Trochaicum (sc. Trochaicum)," beg. "Musicorum et cantorum"; preceded by a prologue (not in Gerbert) in which Guido "muse ipsum alloquenti respondet" beg. "Nequaquam, inquit, tibi reor esse congruum, musa." On ff. 19b and 20b two readings are given of certain disputed passages. f. 16b.
3. "Temporibus nostris," the contents of which are described thus:—"In hoc capitulo docet Guido prosaice qualiter antiphonarium neumari debeat." This and the following article (no. 4) appear to be included in the "Trochaicus." f. 21.
4. "Epistola Guidonis ad fratrem Martinum (sc. Michaelen)." The "Argumentum" (the second part of the epistle) begins "Ad inueniendum igitur ignotum cantum." At the end is written "explicit Trochaicus." A long passage which immediately precedes this in the Balliol College MS. (from which Add. 4915, below, is copied) is here omitted. ff. 22b-24.

TREATISES by Guido d'Arezzo copied in the 18th century (before 1778) from a MS. at Balliol College, Oxford, occurring in the same order as in Harl. 281 above. Add. 4915.

1. The "Micrologus," beginning here "Qui igitur nostram disciplinam petit." f. 3.
2. "Musicorum et cantorum": described here as "Item Trochaice per Metrum Iambicum." Preceded by the verses, "Gliscunt corda." The thirty-eight lines given by Gerbert at the end do not appear in the present MS., though they do in Harl. 281 (above). f. 19.
3. "Temporibus nostris." f. 23b.
4. "Epistola Guidonis ad Amicum Suum . . . H." (or rather Michael). At the end is written "Explicit Musica Domini Guidonis." The colophon at the end of the epistle, beg. "Hæc pauca"—very similar to the one in Harl. 281 (f. 33b) at the end of the treatise "Quid est musica"—is printed by Gerbert. ff. 26-33b.

"EX MUSICÂ GUIDONIS": extracts from the first few chapters of his "Micrologus." For a description of the MS., see below. Add. 31388, ff. 9b, 11, 11b (about 1497).

"TER TERNI SUNT MODI quibus omnis cantilena contextitur": a few lines (set to music) on the nature of cantilena, described in Lansd. 763 (f. 24b) as "Cantilena Guydonis Maioris," sc. of Guido d'Arezzo. Add. 16896, f. 103 (11th-12th cent.).

MUSICAL SCALE closely resembling that of Guido d'Arezzo, showing various mutations in passing from one hexachord to another. For a further description of the MS., see vol. ii, p. 25. Harl. 978, f. 14 (after 1226).

"MUTROLOGUS: Liber de planâ vivificâ" (sc. musicâ): compiled chiefly from Guido d'Arezzo's "Micrologus." Begins "In nomine Domini . . . brevis sermo. Quid est viuif[ic]a"; ends "varias qualitates." Inserted near the end of a Sarum Ordinal written for Henry Percy, 3rd Earl of Northumberland (1421-1461). Ar. 130, ff. 100-103 (mid. 15th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY of the same compilation. For a description, see below (p. 308). Lansd. 763, ff. 61-68b (about 1460).

"PROLOGUS Magistri Gwidonis de arte musicâ," beginning "Si uis scire artem musicam"; followed by the "Disputacio" or dialogue, beginning "Dic mihi, frater, scis cantare." At the beginning of the prologue is written, in an 18th-century hand, "Guido Aretinus A.D. 1204" (sic); the work is, however, not an original one by Guido d'Arezzo, but only founded on his writings, as he is evidently the "Magister Gwydo" who is frequently quoted in the treatise. On f. 177 there is a reference to the Salisbury use. From a chartulary of Beaulieu Abbey, co. Southt. Nero A. xii, ff. 174b-178b (13th cent.).

TWO EXTRACTS from treatises relating to the monochord; from an Antidotarium probably written in England. Sloane 1621 (11th cent.).

1. "Monocordi diuisio," beg. "In capite proslambanomenos pone a." ff. 2b, 3.
2. "Si monocordum mensurare uolueris"; taken from another work. f. 4.

"EXPOSITIO MISSE," beginning "[P]rimum in ordine Missæ," and describing at the commencement the antiphonal mode of singing in the Roman Church. 8 C. iii, ff. 6b–26 (11th cent.).

"MUSICA JOHANNIS [Cotton]," written in England. Begins, after a short exordium to readers, a prologue and "annotationes" (sc. the headings of the chapters), with the words "Primum hoc illi qui se ad musicæ disciplinam aptare desiderat iniungimus." Contains chapters 1–12 (middle), the last twelve chapters being lost (see Gerb. ii, 246). The author is supposed to have flourished about the end of the 11th, or beginning of the 12th, century. Vespasian A. ii, ff. 131–138b (12th–13th cent.).

ILLUSTRATIONS of the eight ecclesiastical tones, the music being expressed by neums on staves of 3 lines, of which the F is red and the C yellow. The first tone is wanting, as well as part of the second. Add. 10335, ff. 23–50 (11th–12th cent.).

"MODUS PSALLENDI in choro," beginning "Venerabilis... Sanctus Bernardus abbas Clarevallensis precepit monachis hanc formam canendi... dicens. 'Psalmodyam non nimium protrahamus.'" Add. 16975, f. 162 (beg. 14th cent.); Harl. 5235, f. 127 (early 14th cent.).

"REGULA sancti Bernardi de modo psallendi et cantandi in ecclesiâ" (as above); followed by a note on the six syllables used in solmization, beginning "Notandum quod sex note sunt." In the hand of John Celston, a monk (ff. 84b, 86b). Belonged to Dom. Johannes Baker, of Solihull, co. Warw., and others whose names will be found in the Catalogue of Royal MSS. 5 A. vi, ff. 30b, 31 (A.D. 1446).

"ALIA ARS de tonis per modum dialogi que a quibusdam intitulum sub nomine beati Bernardi," beginning "Quid est tonus—Regula naturam et formam cantuum regularium determinans." Printed by Gerbert (vol. ii) as "Tonale S. Bernardi." Harl. 281, ff. 34–38b (14th cent.).

"QUID CANTARI vel legi debeat toto anno," followed by some brief notes on the origin of antiphonal singing. Add. 19835, ff. 26b–27b (12th cent.).

"TRACTATUS de tonis a magistro Petro de Cruce," beginning "Dicturi de tonis primo videndum est." [Couss. i.] Harl. 281, ff. 52b–58 (14th cent.).

TREATISES by anonymous writers; described, along with two other treatises given below (pp. 304, 305), in vol. ii (pp. 174, 175, 196–8, 200) of Hawkins' History of Music (see Add. 4909, below); and published, with variations, by Coussemaker (vol. i). The MS. belonged to Bury St. Edmund's Abbey. 12 C. vi (about 1270-1280).

| 1. "Cognitâ modulacione melorum secundum uiam octo troporum": described by Coussemaker as "De Mensuris et discantu." Probably written by a Frenchman, or at least one intimate with Notre Dame at Paris, at the end of the 12th, or beginning of the 13th, century. It contains allusions to numerous foreign writers on music and to the | English singers, Johannes fil. Dei, — Makeblite of Winchester, and — Blakesmit[h?] in the service of King Henry [II?]. ff. 59-80b. 2. A short treatise on the use of the "synnemenon" tetrachord, beg. "Sequitur de sineminis." Printed by Coussemaker as a continuation of no. 1. ff. 80b-81b. |

HALF-BURNT FRAGMENT of the above treatise (12 C. vi, no. 1). From a register of Bury St. Edmund's Abbey. For a modern transcript, see below. Tiberius B. ix, ff. 215-221b (14th cent.).

TRANSCRIPTS by Dr. Pepusch of the musical portions of Tiberius B. ix (above), made before the fire which occurred in the Cotton Library in 1731. The originals of most of the other treatises (below, pp. 304, 306) have entirely disappeared. They are all by anonymous writers and are described by Hawkins (see 12 C. vi, above). Early 18th cent. Add. 4909.

"LIBER de naturâ cantuum et formâ," beginning "Ut oratio, id est uerborum structura"; preceded by a prologue "Rerum bonus estimator," and a table of contents. Written for the use of a Cistercian house (f. 113), probably at Bohier, in the province of Laon (see f. 78b). At the end (ff. 121, 121b) are some musical examples written on a staff of 4 red lines, with the F, C, and G clef-signs, in illustration of ch. 16. Ar. 25, ff. 104b-121b (early 13th cent.).

"QUOMODO VOCANTUR [octo] toni," beginning "Primus tonus vocatur hypo-dorius." Anonymous. Harl. 3199, f. 70b (13th cent.).

"FABULOSE LOQUENTES dixerunt musicam inueniri a musis"; preceded by a "Prologus in arte musice," beginning "Quoniam quidam iuuenum amici." Anonymous. This work is a sort of compendium of musical information, giving an account of vocal and instrumental music, including definitions of cantus coronatus, conductus, rotundellus, ductia, stantipes, motetus, hoquetus, and referring by name to several French songs then well-known. John de Garlandiâ is frequently quoted; and once (f. 44) there is a reference to the "Gesta" of a Girardo de Viana. The last part is devoted to church music. Harl. 281, ff. 39-52 (14th cent.).

"TRACTATUS de tonis a fratre Guidone monacho monasterii sancti Dionysii in Franciâ compilatus," beginning "Ut de tonis perfectior possit haberi noticia." The work is divided into two parts, of which the first contains four chapters, the headings of which are "Quot modis accipiatur tonus," "Quot sunt toni," "De naturâ tonorum," and "De proprietate et effectu . . . ipsorum." At the end of the 2nd part is written "ad usum . . . nostri monasterii . . . me ipsum conformare studui de dictis Boecii, Guidonis monachi, et aliorum," etc. Harl. 281, ff. 58b-96b (14th cent.).

"DE FIGURIS siue notis," beginning "Cum in isto tractatu." Probably by a writer of the end of the 13th, or beginning of the 14th, century. Some short passages on ff. 57b, 58, containing instructions for the rendering of the musical examples, are omitted in Add. 4909 (a transcript made before 1731 of Tiberius B. ix, below, p. 305). For a further description, see above, p. 302. 12 C. vi, ff. 54-58 (14th century).

ANOTHER COPY. The words on f. 105, "Hæc Odyngton" (sc. Walter Odington, of Evesham), appear only to refer to the short treatise which begins (a few lines before) with the words "Nota quod est unum genus cantus organici." This latter passage is omitted by Coussemaker. For a further description, see above, p. 303. Add. 4909, ff. 98-106 (before 1731).

"SECRETUM philosophorum": the musical portions, sc. (1) "Musica docet de numero sonoro," (2) "Voces a se invicem distinguuntur sex modis," (3) "Dicto de distinctionibus vocum" (on Proportion), (4) "Dicto de proportionibus vocum" (on the division of the monochord), and (5) "Cum autem volueris facere chordas lyrae." Three English MSS. Add. 32622, ff. 34b-36b (early 14th cent.); Harl. 866, f. 7 (nos. 1-3 only, late 14th cent.); Add. 18752, ff. 18, 18b (early 15th cent.).

"ΜΑΝΟΥΗΛ ΒΡΥΕΝΝΙΟΥ, ἀρμονικῶν [βιβλία γ]," beginning "Ἐπειδὴ περὶ ὁ χρόνος." Published, as far as f. 87, by Dr. John Wallis (Opera Mathematica, vol. iii. 1699). Folios 88-92b have been added in another hand; and ff. 93, 93b, in a third hand. Belonged formerly to the College of Agen. Harl. 5691, ff. 1-93b (16th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY of the work by Manuel Bryennius; here attributed to Adrastus the Peripatetic. With diagrams. Add. 27863, ff. 4-107b (16th cent.).

DIAGRAM of a hand representing the ascending and descending gamut, like the one printed by Coussemaker (i, 21) in the treatise by Jerome of Moravia, but not identical with the so-called Guidonian hand. Apparently written for a Benedictine house in S. Germany. Add. 18347, f. 27b (1st half of 14th cent.).

"REGULÆ magistri Johannis de Muris." For description, see below, p. 308. Lansd. 763, ff. 95-98 (about 1460).

DEFINITION of counterpoint, taken from Johannes de Muris. At the end of a MS. by N. Burzio. Add. 22315, f. 61 (about 1473-1478).

"IN ARTE PRACTICÂ mensurabilis cantus...secundum...Johannem de Muris," beginning "5 sunt partes prolationis." [Cous. iii, 46.] For a description of the rest of the MS., see below, p. 310. Add. 23220, ff. 11b-14 (15th cent.).

ANOTHER COPY of the above work by J. de Muris; preceded by a very short preface. For a description of the rest of the MS., see below, p. 313. Add. 10336, ff. 6-18 (A.D. 1500).

"DE CANTU," beginning "Cantica leticie"; from the "Omne bonum" of Jacobus anonymus: richly illuminated in England. The principal headings into which it is divided are "Quoniam cantica sunt suspendenda"; "Nunquid licet uti electuariis ad clare cantandum"; "Quis fuit primus inventor cantus"; "De superbiâ cantus"; "De cantu et musicâ" (subdivided into "Armonia," "Simphonia," "Melodia," "Dyaphonia," "Dyastema," "Diesis," "Arsis" and "Thesis," "Voces," etc.). 6 E. vi, ff. 213-214 (mid. 14th cent.).

PROLOGUE, "Quemadmodum inter tritricum et zizania"; followed, after a long table of contents, by "Quatuor principalia...tocius artis musice," beginning "Quoniam circa musicam...necessaria quedam ad cantuum utilitatem tractare propono." At the end (f. 64) is the date (1351) at which the work was originally written. One leaf is missing after f. 22, and two leaves after f. 48. Printed in Coussemaker (iv, p. 200), from one of the two Bodleian MSS. (Digby 90), in which it is ascribed to Simon de Tunstede. Add. 8866, ff. 4-64 (15th cent.).

EPITOME of bks. ii and iii of the preceding work. For a further description of the MS., see below, p. 313. Add. 10336, ff. 98b-104b (A.D. 1500).

"QUIA OMNES moderni": a short treatise on musical intervals, etc., said to be "Extracta de Musicâ Boicii," but in reality only founded on his work, being written by a later author, who quotes Guido [d'Arezzo]. Belonged to John Dee [the mathematician] in 1569. Harl. 625, ff. 175, 175b (14th cent.).

TREATISE [beginning "Pro aliquali notitiâ de Musicâ"], founded on the works of Boethius, Guido d'Arezzo, Philippe de Vitry, Franco, etc. Half-burnt fragment. For a transcript, see Add. 4909 (below, p. 306); and for a further description, see above, p. 303. Tiberius B. ix, ff. 204-214 (14th cent.).

"ARS CANTANDI" (see f. 1b), beginning "Est autem unisonus"; described by Coussemaker (vol. i) as "De discantu." Near the end (f. 52) is a fragment beginning "De tonorum agnitionibus" (omitted in the printed version, and in Add. 4909, below); followed by a diagram in the form of a hand (given by Coussemaker in the treatise of Jerome of Moravia, vol. i, p. 21), and by specimens in notation of musical intervals, etc. (omitted by Coussemaker, though appearing in Add. 4909). Probably the work of a 14th-century writer. For a further description, see above, p. 302. 12 C. vi, ff. 50-53b (14th cent.).

TRANSCRIPTS made by Dr. Pepusch, before the fire in the Cotton Library (1731), of the musical treatises in Tiberius B. ix (above, p. 303), of which no. 3 (below) and one other (see above, p. 303) alone remain. Add. 4909.

1. "Regule cum Maximis Magistri Franconis [Parisiensis] cum additionibus aliorum musicorum compilatæ a Roberto de Handlo" (in 1326), beg. "(Franco.) Gaudent brevitate moderni" [Cous. i, 383]. The work is alluded to by Morley in his Introduction to Practicall Musicke, 1592. f. 1.
2. "Tractatus diversarum Figurarum per quas dulces modi discantantur . . . secundum Magistrum Egidium de Muris, vel de Morino" (? 14th cent.), beg. "Nunc itaque Figure a magistris traditæ." See Coussemaker's Traité des inédits (iii, p. 23). f. 11b.
3. "Pro aliquali notitiâ de Musicâ" (Tiberius B. ix, f. 204). ff. 17b-56.
4. "Est autem unisonus" (see 12 C. vi, above). ff. 94b-97b.

TREATISE ["Musica disciplina"] by Ugolino d'Orvieto (14th cent.), described at the end as "Ugolini Vrbeutani Fer[r]ariensis Archiepresbyteri, scriptus Pisauri a me fratre Nicolao de Curte, Papiensi, ad Requisitionem . . . Jacobi de Cincinatis de Grauinâ, Pisauri Canonici . . . 1477." For further description, see Catalogue of Additions, 1888-1893. Add. 33519 (ff. 110).

1. Table of contents, in the hand of Franchino Gaforio, an early owner. ff. 1b-3b.
2. "Declaracio Musice Ugolini," beg. "Potentiarum anime nobilissima esse noscitur intellettiva potencia"; and other introductory matter, including (f. 5b) an account of the original division of the work into five parts or books, the headings of which are "De planâ musicâ," "De musicâ melodiâtâ," "De musicæ mensuratæ . . . Johannis de Muris explanatione," "De proportionibus musicalibus," and "De tocuis musicæ . . . speculatione." ff. 5-11b.
3. The treatise proper, beg. however with Bk. iv, the opening words of which are "[T]res esse musicas . . . accepimus testimonium." ff. 12-96.
4. "[M]usice discipline quinque partium pratice et speculative declaratione peractâ, ad monochordi declarationem . . . oportet nos accedere"; forming a corollary to the preceding work. ff. 97b-109b.

EXTRACTS (very short), in an English hand, from a metrical work, "De Musicâ," beginning "Quo quarti tonus est." Preceded by St. Isidore's "Etymologiæ," bk. iii (see above, p. 297). Harl. 3151, f. 43 (14th-15th cent.).

TREATISES by anonymous authors, in German hands. Nos. 1, 3, and 4 are printed by Coussemaker (iii, 416-495), from a MS. then in the town-library of Trier, formerly in that of the Monastery of St. Maximin in that town (possibly the present MS.). Early 15th cent. Add. 34200 (ff. 60).

1. "Item diceres, Quare musica studetur"; with a second part, "Ars componendi cantum figuratuum simphorice ac duleiter sonantem," beg. "Et primo de contrapuncto plano." By a Frenchman, 14th-15th cent. ff. 1, 34.
2. "Musica est scientia liberali modo cantandi"; followed by a "Recomendacio musicæ." In a different hand from the rest of the MS. f. 41b.

3. "Est quomodo musica diffiniatur"; preceded by a short prologue, beg. "Quoniam per magis noti noticiam." The passage at the end, beg. "Item nota in ligaturis" (f. 49), and the following diagrams are evidently supplementary to ch. 14. On f. 48b (near top) "Nicolaus Demutis" is quoted. f. 42.

4. "Discantus," beg. "Est diversorum cantuum secundum modum, tempus ac prolationem." f. 52.

"PRIMUS TONUS in desolre finitur habens elevationem": treatise on the 8 ecclesiastical modes. It is accompanied by numerous musical illustrations. For a description of the MS., see above, p. 301. Ar. 130, ff. 103-110b (mid. 15th cent.).

TREATISES (most of them unpublished) transcribed, and probably to a great extent compiled, by John Wylde, precentor of Waltham Holy Cross Abbey, about 1460. The volume appears to bear the general title of "Musica Guidonis" (see f. 2b). These treatises are (except nos. 8 and 12) peculiar to this MS. and its early 18th-century transcript, Add. 4912 (below). For a further description of it, see the Catalogue of the Lansdowne MSS., and the Musical Histories of Sir John Hawkins and Dr. Charles Burney. There is also a brief account of it in the hand of [Matthew] Raper on f. 129b. Lansd. 763 (ff. 131).

1. "Prologus super Musicam Gwydonis monachi dictam Monacordum," beg. "Quia iuxta sapientissimum Salomonem"; followed by the capitula and explanations of musical signs. The work itself (f. 6b) is divided into two parts or "Distinctiones," of which the first is called "Musica manualis" and begins "Huius artis inuentorem Greci dicunt Pythagoram"; the second part, or "Tonale," begins (f. 19) "Scripturus de Tonis." Written in England, probably by Wylde, and founded on the works of Guido d'Arezzo, who is quoted as "Guydo maior," or "Guydo senior" (ff. 8b, 24b, etc.), and still more on those of another referred to on f. 19 as "Guydo iunior, cognomento Augensis, cuius industriâ Cisterciensis ordinis cantus regulariter est correctus"—the Guy, abbot (in the 12th century) of the Cistercian monastery of Chalis in Burgundy, whose "Regulæ de arte musicâ" is printed by Coussemaker in vol. ii (see pp. xi, 153, etc.). On f. 24b is introduced the "Cantilena Guydonis maioris," beg. "Ter terni sunt modi." f. 3.
2. "De Sto tonis—vbi nascuntur": a short astronomical, or astrological, treatise, beg. "Septem orbes." f. 52.
3. A mystical Gamut, followed by the words to which it is to be sung beg. "[F]elix Magdalene cantandi preminet arte." "Kendale...[m]onachus...de Sherborne" (? Richard Kendall, d. 1431). ff. 52b, 53.
4. The intervals of the scale illustrated by musical notes set to words beg. "Est Tonus sic, Vt Re Vt." f. 54.
5. "Antiphona per quam ascendit[ur?] a Gamma usque ad Delasol," beg. "Avrea personat lyra." f. 55.
6. "De origine et effectu Musice [speculative]," beg. "Musica est scientia recte canendi." Among the principal headings are "De 3 generibus melorum" (f. 56); "Inventores artis musice equeformis" (f. 56b), containing references to Philip de Vitry, Johannes de Muris, and four writers of the name of Guido, who are distinguished as "Guydo monachus" (see art. 1—possibly the Guy de St. Denis of Harl. 281, f. 58b, above), "Gvido de sancto Mauro" (Guido d'Arezzo—see art. 8), "Gvido maior" (another name for "Guido

- d'Arezzo—see art. 1, above), and “Gvido iunior” (Guy de Chalis—see art. 1); “De musicâ instrumentali” (f. 57), in which Boccaccio and Petrus de Sanctâ Cruce are quoted; “De Cantu coronato,” “De Cantilenis indentatis” (f. 58); and “De Rondellis et Balladis,” including “Carollis” and “Springis” (f. 58b). At the end is written “De ceteris Consonanciis nisi Lyncolniam noueritis nequit declarari.” f. 55b.
7. “Speculum cantancium siue psallencium,” beg. “Qvia omnes 7 sciencie liberales”: described in the rubric as “de affectu (sic) musice moralis.” It contains the Formula of St. Gregory “de modo psallendi” (f. 59b); some verses of St. Augustine on the same subject (f. 60); some verses of St. Bernard “de regimine chori” (f. 60); and a “Detestacio contra peruerse psallentes,” beg. “Qui psalmos rescant,” and containing the following lines (f. 60b): —“Janglers cum Japers, Nappers, Galpers, quoque Drawers, Momlers, Forskippers, Ouerrenners, sic Ouerhippers, Fragmina verborum Tutivillus colligit horum”—Tutivillus being the typical name given by the monks to Lollards; and some verses “De 7 misteriis 7 horarum canonicarum” (f. 60b); after which there appears to be a gap (probably of some length, the speculum being described at the beginning as “tractatus compendiosus”). f. 59.
 8. “Metrologus liber . . . de planâ musicâ brevis sermo”; compiled chiefly from the “Micrologus” of Guido d'Arezzo, here called “Gvido de sancto Mauro” (sc. St. Maur des Fosses). Conf. Arundel 130, above, p. 301. f. 61.
 9. “Primus est tonus Re La”: verses on the eight Modes. f. 68b.
 10. “Tonale,” beginning with ch. 20 of the “Micrologus,” and containing numerous musical examples in square and diamond-shaped notes on staves of 4 red lines. f. 69.
 11. “Distinctio inter colores musicales et armorum heroum”: a fanciful comparison between music and heraldry, beg. “Numerus sexdecim.” f. 88b.
 12. “Regule Magistri Johannis Torkesey. De 6 speciebus notarum simplicium declarate in figuris Trianguli et Scuti,” beg. (after the diagram) “Ad habendam perfectam noticiam artis musice.” The author was probably precentor of Torkesey priory, co. Linc. f. 89b.
 13. “Regule Magistri Johannis de Mnrís — De distanciâ & mensurâ Vocum,” beg. “Intendentes sciencie musicalis exquirere cognicionem.” f. 95.
 14. “Regule Magistri Thome Walsingham (probably the historian) de Figuris compositis et non compositis, et de cantu perfecto et imperfecto, et de Modis,” beg. “Cum sit necessarium iuuenilibus ad facultatem organicam tendentibus.” f. 98b.
 15. “Tretis . . . vpon ye Gamme for hem yat wilbe syngers, or makers, or techers”: a work on the elements of extempore discant. “Lyonel Power” (fl. about 1450?—see Grove's Dictionary). f. 105b.
 16. “A litil tretise acording to ye ferst tretise of ye sight of Descant . . . Countir . . . Countirtenor, and of Faburdon,” beg. “Ferst for ye sight of Descaunt”: apparently a continuation of the preceding work (no. 15). f. 113b.
- The remaining short treatises appear to be by — Chilston (see f. 122b), and are described under the general heading “Tretises diuerse of musical proporcions, and of yeire naturis, and denominacions, ferst in Englishe and yan in Latyne.”
17. “Now passid al maner sightis of Descant.” f. 117.
 18. “The proporcions betwene 1 and 1”; followed by a table. f. 118b.
 19. “Proporcionalitas,” beg. “Thus ouerpasid ye rwlis of Proporcions and of their Denominacions,” f. 120b.
 20. “Proporcio est duarum rerum equalium vel inequalium ad inuicem habitudo vel comparacio.” f. 123.

TRANSCRIPT, said to have been made for Dr. Pepusch (early 18th cent.), of the above Waltham Abbey MS. The only portions omitted in the present copy are ff. 54-55 (nos. 4 and 5), and some of the musical examples, especially in nos. 10, 14-16, 18, and 20. The first lines of the treatises are given in Index I, as well as in the description of the Lansdowne MS. Add. 4912 (ff. 160).

TREATISES and extracts in the hand of Nicolaus Burtius or de Burciis (sc. Nicolò Burzio, the Bolognese poet and musician). On f. 65 (near top, margin) is the date 1478; and (lower down) a note which appears to connect Burzio with the church of Santa Maria di Martirano (in Calabria?). Add. 22315, passim (about 1473-1478).

1. "Prefatio Libelli musicalis de ritu canendi," beg. "Omnium quidem artium"; by "Johannes Gallicus," said by his pupil Burtius (f. 60) to have died in 1473. The work itself was commenced in the pontificate of Pius II (1458-1464), as stated by the author at the beginning, and is divided into two parts, of which the first begins with the words "Miror uiros nostri temporis doctos," and includes (f. 15) an account of the monochord. Published by Coussemaker (vol. iv, pp. xi, 298), together with other matter supplied from the only other known MS. of the work, Harley 6525 (described below), ff. 1-60.
2. "De prolotione sexquialterâ, perfecto minore antecedente," beg. "Nota quod in proportione sexquialterâ." Possibly by Burzio, who is known to have written a work "De musicâ" published in 1587, long after his death. ff. 62, 62b.

TREATISES on music, of which no. 1 is certainly, and nos. 2, 3 are probably, by Johannes Gallicus [Couss. iv, 298]. Belonged at an early period to "Domus Scolæ Dei Ordinis Cartusienensis prope Papinsar (?)" ; acquired in 1554 by "Joan. Ant" (? a relative of the "Joannes Antonii de Montalis" named in Add. 22315, f. 65). Late 15th cent. Harl. 6525 (ff. 96).

1. "Prefatio libelli musicalis de ritu canendi"; followed by the work itself. Single leaves are missing after ff. 4 and 20. For a further account of this work and its author, see Add. 22315 (above). f. 1.
2. "Præfationcula in . . . tacitam . . . numerorum concinentiam," beg. "Etsi non paruum auribus humanis afferre soleant modi musici"; followed by the treatise, "De totis Algorismi Calculationibus," beg. "Ad inuestigandas per algorismum . . . omnes numerorum differentias." f. 77.
3. "Tacita . . . stupendaque numerorum, musica," beg. "Jam uero quisquis inquirere cupit a primis numeris uarias consonantiarum proportiones." f. 88.

"THEORICA Musice Franchini Gafuri Laudensis": a copy of the 2nd edition (1492) of the Theoricum Opus of Gaforio, preceded by the dedication to Lodovico Maria Sforza, and the introductory verses to the Reader, and followed by the "Carmen Lancini Curtii," as in the printed edition. The table of contents is placed at the end in the present MS. The work begins "[D]iuturni studij lectione." Single leaves are missing after ff. 56 and 62. Add. 4913 (ff. 70).

WRITINGS, mostly compilations, on music, apparently in the hand of "Fr. Petrus Berckenmare de Augustâ" (Augsburg), whose declaration of obedience on admission to the monastery of SS. Udalric and Afra is prefixed (f. 10), dated 1497. It was intended to form a work of three or more chapters (conf. ff. 12 and 29, top). Add. 31388 (about 1497).

1. "Secundum capitulum est de modis cantandi"; divided into three "particulæ," of which the first begins "Modus quid est," with examples in music, at the end, of the various intervals alluded to earlier in the work. ff. 12-17.
2. Miscellaneous notes, including definitions of musical terms, descriptions of the ten principal "modi," etc. ff. 17b-24.
3. "Musice artis opusculum," divided into two parts, of which the first begins "Musica quid est? Dico,
- Musica est liberalis scientia perite cantandi." It treats chiefly of mutations. ff. 24b-28b.
4. "3^m capitulum est de tonis"; divided into three "particulæ," of which the first begins "Tonus quid est." The opening lines appear to be taken from Odo of Cluny's "Dialogus de Musica," but the rest is different. The third "particula" describes the eight principal tones and is followed by musical illustrations, in the form of a Tonarius. ff. 29-38b.

NOTES relating to the hexachord, including (f. 1) "Tre sono le proprietate (sic) del canto." Forms the fly-leaf at the beginning of an Ambrosian breviary of 1402. Eg. 2865, ff. 1, 1b (15th cent.).

TREATISES, or extracts from treatises, on music. The MS. belonged to the Conway family, and afterwards to the Rt. Hon. John Wilson Croker. Add. 23220 (15th cent.).

1. "Quoniam quidem antelapsis temporibus"; relating chiefly to singing, ending with examples of "deductiones." Anonymous. f. 1.
2. A treatise divided into 2 books, of which the first, "De 14 speciebus" (unison, semitone, tone, etc.), begins "Infra dyapason"; and the second, "De contrapuncto," begins "Moderni cantores." Anonymous. ff. 6b, 7-11b.
3. "Ars [musica]," by "Jhoh[ann]es Boen de Rijnsborghm" (near Leyden), beg. "■ ■ ◆ ◆ Hec sunt quatuor note quibus omnis mensurabilis contextitur cantelena"; on musical terms, perfect and imperfect modes, keys, etc. f. 14b.
4. Prologue, "Musicis studium a cunctis summopere amplectendum"; followed by the work itself, divided into four long chapters of which the first (f. 22), beg. "Primo de musice igitur notificatione," treats of musical instruments, motets, rondels, with references to the works of Michael Ephesius, Isidore, Boethius, Guido [d'Arezzo], Odo [of Cluny], Berno, Johannes [Cotton?], etc.; the other chapters are headed "De primis elementis" (f. 24), "De proportionibus musicalibus" (f. 25b), and "De tonis" (f. 27). Anonymous. ff. 22-29b.

FRAGMENTS in Greek on the history and theory of music, forming part of a MS. which appears to have been formerly connected with Crete. Add. 34060 (15th cent.).

1. "Πόθεν ὁ πλάγιος τοῦ τετάρτου ἤχου ἔχει τέσσαρα ἀντίφωνα," beg. "Τί δῆποτε τῶν ἄλλων ἤχων." Inserted between two writings on the degrees of consanguinity. f. 201b.
2. "Πόθεν οἱ ἄνθρωποι κατ' ἀρχὰς τοὺς ἤχους εὔρον," beg. "Τοὺς μὲν οὖν ἤχους φασὶν εὔρεθῆναι." This and nos. 3, 4 are inserted between two writings against the Jews. f. 395.
3. "Τὴν μὲν συμφωνίαν τοῦ τετραχόρδου." f. 395b.
4. "Τῶν ἐν τῷ ψαλτῆρι ἀναβαθμῶν ι ε ὄντων." f. 395b.

"REGULE magistri Johannis Torkesey." For a description of the treatise, see Add. 21455 (below); and for that of the rest of the MS., see above, p. 307. Lansd. 763, ff. 89b-94b (about 1460).

EXTRACTS from treatises, etc., relating to music, in an English hand. 15th cent. Add. 21455 (ff. 11).

| 1. "Cum de mensurabili musicâ sit nostra presens intentio"; apparently by John Torkesey, who is certainly the author of the portion beginning (f. 7) "Ad habendam noticiam" and ending (f. 8b) "notam omnino perfectam."—Conf. Lansd. 763, ff. 90, 94 (above, p. 308). f. 3. | 2. "Regula de monocordo," beg. "¶ a. b. c. d."; possibly also by Torkesey. f. 8b. 3. "It is to wyte yat yer are iii degres of discant." f. 9. 4. "De discantu et contranota," beg. | 1. "Sciendum est tamen et neupme loco sunt pedum"; giving representations in notes of the principal metres employed in Greek verses. At the end Hanboys is quoted. f. 64. 2. "Musica magistri Franconis cum Addicionibus"; described at the end as "Summa magistri Johannis Hanboys, Doctor. Musicæ reuerendi, super musicam continuam et discretam." The prologue begins "Cum de planâ musicâ philosophi sufficienter tractauerunt"; and the work itself, "Mensurabilis musica est cantus | longus." Printed by Coussemaker (vol. i, p. 403) from the present MS., the only one known to exist and probably contemporary with the writer, who is supposed to have flourished about 1470. The treatise is a commentary on the "Musica" of Franco of Cologne, with a long quotation from which it commences. Among other writers cited by the author are Franco of Paris, Petrus de Cruce, Johannes de Garlandiâ, W. de Doncastre, Robertus Trowell, and Robertus de Brunham. ff. 64b-86. |

"PROPORTIONES secundum Joannem Otteby (sc. Hothby), magistrum in musicâ," transcribed in 1500. Begins "Quid est proportio," but is different from his "Regulæ super proportionem," printed by Coussemaker (iii, 328). After f. 58b, a leaf is missing. For a further description of the MS., see below, p. 313. Add. 10336, ff. 58-73b.

TREATISES by Joannes Octobi, sc. Hothby. Belonged to Zacharia da Villa Calamdrina, or Callamandrina. Some leaves (apparently twenty-three) have been removed between ff. 34 and 35. About 1500. Add. 36986 (ff. 42).

|--|--|
| 1. "Tractatus quarundam regularum artis musices," beg. "Pertinentia vocum sunt 4^r." The principal headings are:—"Ordo ad faciendum monocordum" (f. 2); "De principiis et clausulis troporum siue cantuum autenticorum et placalium" (f. 16); and "De contrapunto" (f. 24), the latter containing quotations from "Magister Machteus" or "Matteus." | (Possibly the Frater Matthæus who studied under Hothby in 1471—see end of Fonds. lat. 7369, in the Bibliothèque Nationale, at Paris.) Some of the latter part of this treatise is in Italian. Another copy is in the National Library at Florence. f. 2. 2. "La caleopea [legale] . . . ridotto sotto breuita," beg. "Li strumenti i quali generano suoni universalmente |

sono 3." The substance is the same as that of the Calliopea legale of the Florentine MS. published by Coussemaker (Histoire de l'Harmonie au Moyen Âge, p. 295), but the wording is quite different. It is especially interesting as describing the transition from neums to square notes. f. 35.

TREATISES, etc., in a German hand of the end of the 15th cent. Presented by Henry Howard [in 1681] to the Royal Society. Ar. 299.

1. A table headed "Voces octo graues 7tem dicuntur actute" (sc. acute). f. 29.
2. "Manus 2^m (sc. secundum) Grecos": a list of the Greek names of the notes of the tetrachord. f. 29b.
3. "Expedit, et consonum est rationi": an anonymous treatise of which the following are the principal headings:—"De cantu et clauibus" (containing a definition of "cantus 2^m Nicolaum Muris"—possibly a confusion between Johannes de Muris and Nicolaus de Capua); "De mutationibus vocum" (with examples); and "De tonis" (with examples). f. 30.
4. "Vtilia musice artis"; relating to mutation, cantus mensurabilis, etc. ff. 66-72.
5. "Volentibus ad musice artis noticiam accedere incipiendum est a litteris alphabeti"; with examples of the notes of the gamut. ff. 78-86.
6. "Pro recommendatione modicâ egregie musicalis scientie" (quoting Boethius), beg. "Nulla omnino etas." f. 88.
7. "Proporcio et abitudo vnus quantitatis ad aliam." f. 89.
8. "[?] N]e igitur silencio transeamus quidditatem et divisionem musice"; on the invention of music, with quotations from Boethius, etc. ff. 90. 90b.

WRITINGS on music, in German hands. 15th-16th cent. Add. 16900 (ff. 53).

1. "Compendium Artis Musices, in quo de naturâ cantus Gregoriani ... progreditur." After two prefaces, beg. "Inter omnes artes quas liberales vocant," and "Cogitanti mihi Paulo alcuis," ch. 1 begins "Quoniam septem sunt littere." Nothing appears to be known of the author. f. 1.
 2. "Tropi cum tonis diurnalibus et psalmorum inicijs secundum Ritur sacri Specus," beg. "Primus tonus leni canore cursum tali leuat medio." In this, as well as in no. 1, there are numerous musical examples in quasi-Gothic notation. f. 22.
 3. "Conclusio Epistolaris hujus opusculi," addressed to Virgilius, abbot of St. Peter's, Salzburg (d. 1502); beg. "Quamquam plurimorum inanem quandam preferencium ignoranciam diutinâ sim agitatus vexacione." f. 33b.
 4. A "Figura," or diagram, illustrative of the contents of art. 1, as seen from the description which follows it. ff. 35, 36.
- The above are all in the same hand, and form together one work. Nos. 5 and 6 are in a different hand.
5. Treatise beg. "[C]apitulum primum quatuor habet considerare." The subjects of the five chapters are: (1) "De figurâ, modo, tempore et prolacione"; (2) "Signum, tactus, punctus et tractus"; (3) "De alteratione et perfectione"; (4) "De ligaturis"; and (5) "De ... proporcionibus." The work is preceded by a very short preface beg. "Arrepto (sic) januam paulisper virium spiramine volens." f. 37.
 6. "[A]ccentuandi regularis modus": an accentuarius, relating rather to reading than singing. f. 46.

"LA REGULA del Canto fermo," beginning "In primis bisogna sapere la manu" (sic); with further headings "De le mutacione (sic)," "De le [7] formacione" (sic), "De le [20] littere grave (sic) acute e superacute," "De li finali et de li toni regulari et irregulari," "De li toni autentici et placali" (sc. plagali), "De b molle," "De le 16 specie del canto." The treatise is followed by examples of the eight tones, etc., taken from the Antiphonal, represented by square and diamond-shaped notes on staves of from 4 to 6 lines, with the C and F clefs, accidentals, quasi-bars, double bars, etc. Add. 34296, ff. 1-10 (15th-16th cent.).

ILLUSTRATIONS of prolation, written in England. For a description of the MS., see vol. ii, p. 123. Royal Appendix 58, f. 51 (early 16th cent.).

TREATISES, or extracts from treatises, on music, in the hand of, and some of them probably compiled, if not written, by John Tucke, B.A., formerly fellow of New College, Oxford, about 1500 (see f. 73b). Belonged in the 16th century to William Tucke (f. 3b), possibly the transcriber of the epitaph of John Tucke on f. 114. Add. 10336 (A.D. 1500).

"UTILE (sic) e breue regule di Canto composte per Maestro Zoanne di Spadari (al. Spataro) da Bologna," beginning "Nel canto figurato ouero mensurato habiamo tre specie." The treatise proper ends at the bottom of f. 37b, where the date (1510) is given. The "Franchino Gasparo da Lodi," quoted on ff. 9b, 11b, etc., is Franchino Gafuro or Gaforio (see f. 32b), the life-long rival of the author, some of whose errors, here refuted, were published by Spataro in his pamphlet Errori di Franchino Gafuro, 1521. The work of the latter's pupil Francesco Caza frequently referred to in the present treatise is probably the Tractato vulgare del canto figurato, 1492. Add. 4920 (ff. 40).

ACCENTUARIUM (ff. 26-43), in the hand of Johann Zeabelstein(?), vicar in Hambach [?in Rhenish Bavaria], written for the Benedictines of the Bursfeld observance in 1515, and containing (ff. 26-29) many musical examples. At the beginning are some "Præcepta Musicalia" in a later hand, beginning "Musica Choralis," followed by a diagram illustrative of mutation; and at f. 107b, in the same (later) hand are scales and a diagram of the various keys. Add. 21149, ff. 25b-43, 107.

"THE ART of Mvsic collectit ovt of all Ancient Doctovris of Mvsic" [by a Scotchman]. There appears to have been a previous volume by the same author, as the first of the three books or parts into which the present MS. is divided is described as "the second part of Music." The MS. appears to have been presented by [Sir] Francis Kinaston in 1635 to his then newly-founded Museum Minervæ (f. 1); and afterwards by Sir John Hawkins to the British Museum in 1778. After 1517. Add. 4911 (ff. 129).

1. Book i, beg. "Qvhat is Mensvral music": fifteen chapters, ch. 15 (f. 30) containing specimens of twenty-five canons with their resolutions, including one (f. 31b) by Josquin [des Prés] without words, and the two following anonymous ones with words, namely "Et in terrâ pax" (f. 38b) and "Patrem omnipotentem" (f. 39b); followed (f. 41) by several unnumbered examples, including two without words by Josquin (ff. 41, 41b). Among music-writers, most of them then living, quoted (ff. 5b, etc.) are [Andreas] Ornithoparcus (whose "Micrologus" appeared in 1517), Gaforio (called indiscriminately Gaforus, Lawdensis, and Franchinus), [Jean]

Tinctor, Faber Strabulen[sis] (sc. Jean Lefèvre of Etaples), Volicus Baroducensis (sc. Nicholas Bollick, or Wollick, of a place near Bar-le-Duc), Joannes de Muris, and Erasmus Lapidica (f. 27). ff. 1-45.

2. Book ii. "Music Mensurall," beg. with five chapters on counterpoint, etc., followed (f. 69b) by examples of harmony in 3, 4, and 5 parts, and the Rules of "Counterpoint" (f. 85), and "Fabvrdon" (f. 94), with numerous examples including "O Lux, Beata Trinitas" in 4 parts by Dr. [Robert] Fairfax (f. 103b). ff. 46-112.

3. Book iii. On Proportion. Unfinished. ff. 113-129.

"DELLI PRINCIPIJ de tutti li toni secondo mi Pietro Aron" (f. 1), "secondo Frate Stephano" (f. 2—followed by cadences and the endings of the tones), and "secondo Franchino [Gaforio]" (f. 5): possibly the original draft of the beginning of Aaron's Trattato della natura et cognitione di tutti gli tuoni di canto figurato. . . 1525." Followed (ff. 6-9) by examples of syncope, cadences, etc. Printed Book, K. 1. g. 10, ff. 1-9 (before 1545, date of Aaron's death).

MANUSCRIPT COPY of the Brenis Musicæ Isagoge, of Johann Fries, of Zurich, 1555. Beginning "Musica est recte modulandi scientia." For a description of the work, see vol. ii, p. 196. Presented by Sir John Hawkins in 1778. Add. 4914, ff. 2-6b (before 1778).

"LOB UND PREIS der edeln Künst Musica, im Thon 'La jeune Dame'" : poem in praise of music by "Johann Hasentod[t]ler" (fl. 1569). See also vol. ii, p. 472. Sloane 1021, f. 2b (about 1640).

TREATISE in Welsh on the four kinds of music, beginning "Llyma lle treithir o dair kaingk o brydydd." See also below (section ii). Add. 15038, ff. 149b-154b (about 1575).

"To ALL true preachers": short treatise by Hugh Kinge in defence of music and dancing; apparently in the hand of the Rev. Edward Shawe, of Halton, in Cheshire, some notes by whom, dated 1576 and 1577, are scribbled on f. 5. Harl. 2019, ff. 8b-5b (reversed).

PORTIONS of two treatises, of which the second at least is by Sim[on] Vych[an], sc. Simon Vaughan, said to have been transcribed in 1593 by Richard ap John from a copy belonging to Dafydd Salbri. Add. 15046 (about 1593).

1. "Lyfr caduedigaeth Cerd Dant": ff. 31-35.
observations on harp music; followed by a list of seventy Welsh tunes.
2. "Pum Llyfr Cerddwriaeth Cerdd Dafawd," 1593. ff. 122-145b.

FRAGMENTS relating to music from a MS. apparently written in England. Royal Appendix 56 (16th cent.).

1. Table showing the different kinds of proportio. f. 1.
2. Rough table of scales. f. 32b.

DEFINITIONS of music, etc., in Latin, written in England in a 16th-century hand. The first one is by Odo of Cluny; the second is very similar to the one in Add. 31388 (above, p. 310). Sloane 1585, f. 45b.

"DE REGULIS antiphonarum," beginning "Omnis antiphona terminans in Re," with numerous musical examples. The first part of the MS. consists of a Noyon Processional. Add. 19966, ff. 136-143b (16th cent.).

"ἈΡΧΗ. . . τῶν σημαδίων τῆς ψαλτικῆς τέχνης," beginning (f. 3), "Ἀρχή, μέση, τέλος καὶ σύστημα πάντων τῶν σημαδίων τὸ ἴσον ἐστὶ": on the mode of rendering the musical signs employed in the Greek Church, the notes being divided into fourteen phorai, eight ascending and six descending. Folio 2 is merely a duplicate of the greater part of f. 6b. Given to Humphrey Wanley by Arsenius, Metropolitan of the Thebaid, in 1716. Harl. 5544, ff. 2-8b (16th-17th cent.).

ANOTHER VERSION of the first part of the preceding treatise (Harl. 5544). Add. 19456, ff. 3-5 (16th-17th cent.).

ANOTHER VERSION of the same. At the beginning there is a reference, in the hand of the Rev. Dr. John Covel, to Martin Crusius' Turco-greecia, p. 197. Add. 22911, ff. 443-449b (16th-17th cent.).

"THE PRAISE OF MUSICKE . . . and the necessarye vse of it in y^e . . . Church," by an anonymous writer who quotes [John] Foxe—Actes and Mon[uments], 1563] (f. 16), and other works by English divines of the end of the 16th century. The Marollicus quoted on f. 1 (margin) does not appear to be otherwise known. The principal headings are "The . . . decay of Musick in Cathedrall and Colledge Churches" (f. 5b), "The first occasion taken against those that performe y^e Service in songe in respect of y^e vnskillfull . . . handling thereof" (f. 8), and "The remedies to continewe . . . musick in the church" (f. 14b). The treatise begins "As it may well be counted a needles labour." Early 17th cent. 18 B. xix (ff. 19).

"TREATISE OF MUSICK," by Thomas Ravenscroft, who is described at the end (but in a different hand) as then "Bachelor of Musick (1607) and one of y^e Children of Poules" (sc. St. Paul's). Begins "Musick is an Art in which all discords ar made to agree with the concords." After a brief introduction, in which the author divides music into "Practiue (sic) and Speculative," he describes the gamut or scale, with diagrams, after the Guidonian system, which however he has evidently learnt at second hand from Sethus Calvisius (see f. 5); folios 6–8b contain an account of the various intervals. Of the remainder of the treatise, the greater part, in substance at least, appears in Ravenscroft's A Briefe Discourse of the . . . vse of charact'ring the Degrees . . . in Measurable Musicke, published in 1614. On f. 19b is what appears to be a musical cryptograph, to which the name of Thomas Raph is appended. Early 17th cent. Add. 19758 (ff. 19).

SHORT TREATISES on Welsh music, in that language, transcribed for Owen Jones by Hugh Maurice, from the MS. of John Jones, to which the dates given below refer. Add. 15036 (about 1797).

PORTIONS of treatises, etc., relating to music. For other contents, see vol. ii (p. 474), and below (p. 319). Add. 4388 (A.D. 1635, etc.).

1. Notes made in 1635, relating chiefly to the "scala duralis," with quotations from Thomas Morley (f. 47), Mersenne (f. 49), and Thomas Campion's [A new way of] making 4 parts in Counterpoint, about 1618 (f. 50), etc. At the end are some chromatic and other scales to which the name of Dr. Samuel Brunsell is prefixed. ff. 45-65.
2. Copy made shortly before 1650 of René Descartes' Musica Compendium, written at Breda in 1618. f. 70.
3. "'Surdus Melopæus,' or 'The deafe composer of tunes'" ; consisting of little besides an example of music in 4 parts taken from Sir William Leighton. f. 84.

"REGOLE per il Contrappunto," containing, among other examples, one of ligatures by Giovanni Bernardino Nanino, from which circumstance the treatise is supposed to be part of the Regole di Gior. Maria e di Bernardo Nanini per fare contrappunto, published in 1619. Begins "Bisogna cominciare e finire in Consonanza perfetta." Presented by Sir John Hawkins in 1778, having previously belonged to Giovanni [Stafford ?] Smith. Add. 4922 (ff. 22).

DIAGRAMS of the Welsh keys, etc.; temp. Charles I. Published in The Myvyrian Archaeology of Wales, 1807, p. 446. For a further description of the MS., see above, p. 56. Add. 14905, f. 56b.

TRANSCRIPT of the above. For a further description of the MS., see above, p. 118. Add. 14939, f. 29b (about 1742-1779).

NOTES relating to music, apparently in the hand of Nathaniel Highmore [M.D.], 1630. Sloane 581 (A.D. 1630).

1. A diagram, apparently having some connection with art. 2. f. 1*.
2. A passage describing what intervals there ought to be between the different parts of a composition (bassus, tenor, discantus, contra-tenor, altus). It begins "Basis penultima notula solet vt plurimum ascendendo distare ab vltimâ per 4^{or} intervalla." f. 26b.
3. "Regulæ generales," beg. "2^a consonantie perfectæ." f. 27.

EXTRACTS from Elway Bevin's Introduction to the Art of Musicke, 1631, including nearly three-quarters of the whole work—a great part of it in duplicate, apparently in the hand of Daniel Henstridge, organist of Canterbury Cathedral. Add. 30933, ff. 141-157, 159 (early 18th cent.).

TREATISES transcribed in 1796 at Petershausen monastery, near Constance. Add. 34117.

1. "Architectonice Musicæ Universalis . . . Auctore Volupio Decoro Musagete (sc. Wolfgang Schönsleder) . . . Ingolstadij . . . MDCXXXI." f. 71.
2. "Melopoeticæ, seu Musicæ Compositionis brevis Instructio"; divided into a "Prolusio de musicâ compositione," and nine "Articuli," the principal headings of which are "De partibus Contrapuncti," "De usu Consonantium," "Errores aliquot canendi," "De usu dissonantium," "De Variationibus"; these are followed by "Exercitationes practicæ," "Observanda quædam de Tonis," etc. By an anonymous author, who quotes [J. Andreas] Herbst (f. 117b), from one of whose works (dated 1643) the present treatise appears to have derived its name; and (f. 118b) Volupius Decorus (see above). ff. 105-122b.

TREATISES, poems, and other fragments relating to music, etc.; apparently written or collected by Johann Stobæus, in and before 1640 (see vol. ii, p. 472). Sloane 1021 (about 1640).

1. "De Harmoniâ," beg. "Quinta a quartâ." f. 3.
2. "In Laudem Divinæ Musicæ." "Petrus Hagius." f. 8.
3. "Die Gottliche Musica ist aller Ehren werth." f. 8b.
4. "Ex sacris de Musicâ instr[umentali]." f. 42.
5. A short treatise, "Musica est bene canendi scientia"; with a German translation. "[Thomas] Lind[ner?]," of Lübeck. It contains quotations from works by [?J. Michael] Dill-iger?, Orland[o di Lasso?], [Nicolaus] Listen[ius, from his Musica, published at Nürnberg in 1577], etc. ff. 89-99b.
6. "Toni sive Modi usitati duodecim"; followed by "Tabulæ indicantes Ambitum et Clavem finalem cuiuslibet Toni," "Intonationes Psalmorum," etc. ff. 99b-106b.
7. "De Tonorum Naturâ." f. 116.

"METHODE pour la Musique Almerique": consisting chiefly of the forms, names, and values of the notes, according to this new system.

From the note at the beginning of the treatise, in the same hand, which follows (f. 178), it is possible that the present MS. was communicated to Thomas Hobbes, along with the other (which is by René Descartes), by [Marin] Mersenne in 1640[-1]. Harl. 6796, ff. 175-177.

"GLOTTISMI modulationum sibilo exprimendi in Lusiniâ observati"; taken from the Musurgia of Athanasius Kircher [1650]. For other contents, see vol. ii, p. 266. Add. 31602, f. 118b (18th cent.).

ACCOUNT of an echo heard by Sir Robert Moray [one of the founders of the Royal Society] at Rosneath, near the Clyde, with a representation of the sound in musical notes. From a copy of the Register-book of the Royal Society. Sloane 243, f. 180b (A.D. 1661).

"ANALOGIA inter Alphabetum Hebraicum et Musicum": consisting of the names and forms of the principal musical notes and signs merely written down, without any further attempt at the comparison suggested in the above heading. By Henry Power, M.D. Sloane 1326, f. 122 (about 1663, 1664—see ff. 121b, 125).

PAPERS relating to the writings of John Birchensha. Add. 4388 (A.D. 1665–1672).

1. Calculations made in 1665–1666 concerning his "Grand scale." ff. 14–37 passim. 1665. f. 67.
2. His own exposition of the same, 3. Printed announcement by him of his Syntagma Musice, 1672. f. 69.

"A COLLECTION of Rules in Musicke from the most knowing Masters in that science with Mr. [John] Birchensha's 6 Rules of Composition; and his Enlargements there-on to... William Lord Viscount Brouncker (see also f. 47)... collected by mee, Silas Domville als Taylor." It includes, besides the rules above-specified, "A Scale for the right denomination of Notes... invented... by Mr. Allison of the Covent Garden... 1668" (f. 42), "Rules for playing from a Basso continuo By Mr. Matthew Locke" [afterwards inserted in the introduction to his Melothesia, 1673] (f. 43), extracts (f. 52), from Christopher Simpson's "Principles of Composition" (sc. pt. ii of A Compendium of Practical Musick, 1667), etc. Add. 4910, ff. 39–61.

EXTRACTS (relating to music) from the Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society, 1670–1702, apparently made by J[ames] Grassineau in 1743 (see the title-page, which does not however correctly describe the contents). Add. 4921 (A.D. 1743).

The principal works described or alluded to in the MS. are:—

1. "Musica Speculativa" (sc. Speculationi di Musica). "[Pietro] Mengoli," 1670. ff. 3–6.
2. "Syntagma Musicae." "John Birchensha," 1672. f. 8.

"TRACTATUS de Musicâ," beginning "Musicam non incongrue definiris scientiam canendi apposite ad aures demulcendas"; by a Frenchman, who quotes [Athanasius] Kircher and [Claude François Milliet] des Chales (fl. 1674-1675). It is divided into thirteen "Propositiones," the principal of which are "De numero et Tempore," "Soni," "De Consonantiis," "Divisio Diatonici Monochordi," "De Proportionibus," "Systema Guidonis Aretini," "Fistularum organi Pythaulici proportio," "De modis (1) Antiquorum" and (2) "Recentiorum," and "Leges Melopœiæ." Late 17th cent. Add. 4923 (ff. 12).

"RULES for playing of a Through-Bass upon Organ and Harpsicon" (sic), beginning "Music consists in Concords and Discords"; by Dr. John Blow. Autograph. Add. 34072, ff. 1-5 (late 17th cent.).

"DR. BLOW'S Rules for Composition," beginning "Concords from the Bass upwards"; apparently in the hand of Daniel Henstridge. Add. 30933, ff. 162-171 (early 18th cent.).

ESSAYS, memoranda and criticisms relating to music by, and mostly in the hand of, Hon. Roger North (son of Dudley, 4th Lord North). In seven volumes. Add. 32531-32537, passim (early 18th cent.).

32531. Vol. i (ff. 42-58). For other contents, see below (section vii, 41, 44).

1. "Some Notes upon an Essay of Musick printed, 1677, by way of coment, & amendment." The essay referred to is A Philosophical Essay of Musick, directed to a Friend, London, 1677, by Lord-Keeper Guilford. Relates chiefly to the production of sounds. f. 42.

2. Criticisms on Isaac Vossius' De Poematium Cantu (1673). f. 53.

32532. Vol. ii (ff. 26). "Some m[emo-ran]dums concerning Musick," including "The Doctrine of Discords" (f. 2), "Graces in Playing" (f. 6b), "Of soft and lowd" (f. 8b), "Of stops or paus" (f. 9), "Of fug[u]e" (ib.), "For keeping time" (f. 13), "Of Comon Composition" (f. 13b), "Of Harmony" (f. 16b), "Of descant" (f. 20), "Performance" (f. 25b), etc.

The five remaining volumes comprise rough drafts of a work which North apparently intended to publish as "Musical Recollections," divided into three parts, namely:—"The Musically Grammarian," "The Theory of Sounds," and "An Essay of Musically Ayre." He appears to have afterwards (1728) incorporated the biographical and historical matter and a small portion of the theoretic part of the work in Memoires of Music, being some historico-criticall Collections of that Subject, published by Rimbault in 1846. The various parts of the original work are here distributed as follows:—

32533. Vol. iii (ff. 181). "The Musically Grammarian, or A practick Essay upon Harmony, plain and artificiall, with notes of comparison between the elder and later musick, and somewhat historical of both"; beg. "The action of sound is sensible to us by the effects." It is divided into thirty-three chapters, the principal subjects of which (see index at beginning) are: The voice (f. 14), Notation (f. 48b), Time (f. 54), Keys (f. 67), Cadences (f. 91), Gracing (f. 105b), Part-music (f. 121b), Solo-music (f. 125), Plain-song (f. 157), and French music (f. 171b). For the latter part of the volume (ff. 152–181b), see also below (p. 329).

32534. Vol. iv (ff. 82). "The Theory of sounds": describing its Representation by circling waves (f. 6b), its Velocity (f. 11), Properties of air (f. 14), Vibration (f. 24b), Proportions of tones (f. 28b), Intervals, Concords and Discords (f. 36), and Scales (f. 47). For the latter part of the volume (ff. 51b–82b) see also below (section vii, 66).

32535. Vol. v (ff. 149). Two revises of the preceding work, both of them entitled (with slight variation) "Theory of Sounds, shewing the genesis, propagation, effects, augmentations and applications of them reduced to a specifick Inquiry into the cripticks of Harmony and Discord, with Eikons (sc. diagrams) annexed"; the first (f. 1) being dated 1726, the second (f. 74), 1728.

32536. Vol. vi (ff. 1–62). "An Essay of Musically Ayre tending cheitly to shew the foundations of melody joyned with Harmony . . . concluding with some notes concerning the excellent art of voluntary." The principal subjects discussed are sensation, regularity, tone, the scale, accords, cadence, solos, graces, time, instrumental music, soft and loud music, the ecclesiastical style, extravagance. etc. For the latter part of the MS. (ff. 62–90), see below (section ii).

32537. Vol. vii (ff. 241). Rough drafts, sketches, and notes—many of them imperfect—of "The Musically Grammarian" (ff. 1–65b) and "The Theory of sounds" (ff. 66–241b, passim). Folios 234–235b, and possibly a few others also, are sketches of "Musically Ayre."

"REGULE sive Fundamenta necessaria pro addiscendâ Compositione Musicâ, collectæ a R. D. Thomâ Eisenhueth." Apparently copied from a work of which the second edition was published at Kempten in 1702 as Musikalisches Fundament. Eisenhuth's first published work is dated 1675. For a further description of the MS., see below. Add. 34117, ff. 38–70 (about 1796?).

"TRAITÉ de La Musique Moderne, avec quelques Remarques sur La Musique Ancienne par A. D. V.—MDCCLII." Begins "De tous les Animaux." The principal headings are "De l'étendue de la voix" (f. 6), "Divisions de l'Octave" (f. 8), "Des Clefs" (f. 13), "Des Signes, et ♯" (f. 16b), "Des Notes" (f. 18), "De la Mesure" (f. 21), "Des Pausés" (f. 25b), "Les noms des Notes" (f. 29b), "De la Gamme" (f. 33), "Reduction des Clefs transposées aux Clefs naturelles" (f. 39). Add. 4918 (ff. 43).

"THE PRACTICALL THEORY of Musick—to perform Musick in perfect proportions," beginning "The power of Musick." Anonymous. Add. 4919, ff. 2–6 (about 1702).

TWO LETTERS from Rev. Thomas Salmon, Rector of Meppershall, co. Bedf., to Sir Hans Sloane; both of which are referred to in the Dictionary of National Biography, vol. 1, p. 208. Sloane 4040.

1. About Greek enharmonic music, advance of the science of music,

2. Describing his proposals for the

"OBSERVATIONS concerning Musick made...1705 or —06 by... Reverend Mr. [Arthur] Bedford, Chaplain to the Haberdasher's Hospital at Hoxton, near London." The above title is in the hand of [Rev.] Edw[ard] De Chair [minor canon of St. Paul's]. The headings of the chapters are:—"Of Musick, in General" (sc. origin of the word Musick), "Of the method in learning to compose," "Of the Gamut," "That all the half notes in the Octave are equal," "Of the fretting a stringed Instrument," "Of the Bass, Relation inharmonical, and the Nature of the Keys," "Of other accidental flats and sharps, and the Closes in Each Key," and "A Comparison between Musick and Poetry." Begins "Musick, being one of the liberal Arts." Add. 4917 (ff. 63).

"EXCERPTA ex [Dethlevi] Cluveri Disquisitionibus [philosophicis], von den nützlichen Sachen der Welt"; relating to musical proportion, intervals, etc. German. Apparently taken from the 2nd edition (Hamburg, 1711). The 1st edition appeared in 1707. Add. 4910, ff. 1–10.

NOTE of a man who could sing in octaves. From a memorandum-book containing accounts of various freaks of nature. Harl. 6935, f. 96 (about 1714—see f. 1*).

MEMORANDA by an Englishman, including, among other things:—a Table of proportions (f. 11b), "Tabula ad compositionem contrapuncti" (f. 12b), "Transitus ab unâ consonantiâ ad aliam" (f. 13b), some verses on the distinctive qualities of the four principal voices (f. 17b), another Table of proportions (f. 25b), "Forma seu proportio consonantiarum et dissonantiarum" (f. 112b), and "Tabula consonantiarum" (f. 116). Sloane 2686, ff. 11b–128 passim (about 1717—see f. 111).

EXTRACTS from [Leonard] Euler's Tentamen novæ [Theoriæ musicæ, etc., 1729]. In the hand of Dr. Calcott. Add. 27687, ff. 10b–18 (about 1796).

PRINTED COPY of A short Treatise on Harmony . . . MDCCXXX, beginning "The Perfect concords"; followed by "Examples in Notes referring to the [MS.] Figures in the Margin . . . 1730," which examples Sir John Hawkins (who bequeathed the volume to the British Museum in 1789) states to be in the hand of [Joshua] Steele, being "taken from the edition published [in 1731] by Dr. Pepusch." The hand is however not at all like his, but closely resembles that of James Hamilton, Viscount Paisley (afterwards 7th Earl of Abercorn), to whom it was at the time attributed. He was a pupil of Pepusch, which the writer of the treatise must have been, as it is entirely founded on the master's method, so much so that the 2nd edition appears to have been published (see above) by the Doctor himself, though not in his own name. In it almost all the examples above mentioned are incorporated, but with considerable alterations and additions. The words "Æt. 44" at the bottom of f. 1 also corroborate this theory, as Lord Paisley was born in 1686. Printed Book 785. a. 9 (ff. 51 in MS.).

"TRAITÉ de l'Harmonie des sons et de leurs rapports, ou la Musique théorique et pratique ancienne et moderne . . . par . . . Charles Hebert . . . Lecteur honoraire de Philosophie dans l'Université de Boulogne (sc. Bologna) . . . MDCCXXXIII"; with a dedication to "L'Accademie Royale des Sciences," a preface beginning "Si c'est l'harmonie sensible de causes secondes," and a table of contents. The treatise proper begins "L'on verra dans ce chapitre l'origine de la Musique"; the headings of the twelve chapters are:—"L'origine de la Musique," "L'examen des causes du Son," "La différence des Sons," "Des Systèmes anciens," "Des Systèmes modernes," "Des Consonnantes," "Des moindres intervalles de l'Octave," "Des Dissonantes," "Des Signes," "Des Modes anciens et modernes," "Du Contrepoint," and "De la manière de composer . . . musique." The marginal notes (in Latin) include numerous allusions to music from Latin and Greek authors, besides references to Gui[do of Arezzo], Jan [de] Muris, Zarlino, Merseune, Descartes, and other writers on music, as well as to the works of the most celebrated medical writers of the day, especially those who have written on the anatomy of the throat. Most of the plates contain drawings of musical instruments or examples of harmony. The work appears to be unpublished, nor is anything further known of the author. Frontispiece and other etchings by Domenico Maria Fratta. Belonged, previous to 1817, to P. L. Ginguené. Add. 6137 (ff. 360).

SHORT TREATISE in the hand of G. B. Fenoglio. The principal subjects are keys, time, beats, staves, notes, and accidentals. Add. 31613, ff. 3-9 (A.D. 1734).

EXTRACTS relating to Welsh music in the hands of Lewis and Richard Morris. Most of them are published in The Mygyrian Archæology of Wales, 1807, to which the pages given below refer. Add. 14905 (A.D. 1738, etc.).

"TRATADO de la Musica especulativa y practica," by Tomas Vicente Tosca "Presbitero de la Congregacion del Oratorio de Valencia," who flourished in 1721. Divided into four books, of which the first begins, after a short introduction, "Consiste la Musica en el conocimiento cientifico de los intervalos de las voces." Bk. i is headed "De los Intervalos Musicos"; Bk. ii, "Del Systema Musico segun los Generos Diatonico, Cromatico, Enharmonico," etc.; Bk. iii, "De la Musica Organica, o instrumental"; and Bk. iv, "De la Musica practica" ("Canto llano" and "Canto de Organo"). Each book is subdivided into "Prop[osiciones]," with occasional "Corollarios." The principal authors quoted, besides Guido Aretino, are Juan de Muris (f. 132b), whose date the author fixes at 1320, and the later writers, Zarlino, Kircher, Salinas, Cerone, and Mersenne. Add. 31823 (ff. 162).

"REGOLA del terzo Suono," in the hand of Giuseppe Tartini, who appears to have extracted the teaching contained in it from his Trattato... dell' Armonia (1754), for the use of Johann Gottlieb Naumann, who was studying under him at Padua in 1757–1761. Some exercises by Naumann, partly corrected by the Maestro, appear on ff. 9–11. Begins "Data la ottava." Add. 32150, ff. 2–16b.

TRANSLATION [by, and in the hand of, Dr. Callcott], 1804, of the treatise Ueber die Theorie der Musik... von Johann Nicolaus Forkel... Göttingen... 1777 (2nd ed.). See ff. 3–22. Add. 27690, ff. 126–158b.

ESSAY on Counterpoint by Padre [G. B.] Martini, 1774; translated in 1803 by Dr. Callcott from Esemplare o sia Saggio...di Contrappunto. Add. 27686, ff. 13-22b.

LETTER of Dr. Boyce, apparently to M[armaduke] Overend, describing the "distances of the octave." Add. 33965, f. 17 (about 1778).

"ANLEITUNG zum General-Bass und der Tonkunst... von J[ohann] M[ichael] Bach... 1780"; beginning, after an introduction, "Die Grund-harmonie, oder der Inbegriff der Harmonie aller übrigen Stimmen." Add. 31996 (ff. 27).

TREATISES by Joseph Riepel, Kapell-meister to the Prince of Thurn and Taxis, apparently transcribed under the direction of Anton Bachschmid, Kapell-meister at Eichstädt, in whose hand are the first half of vol. i, part of vol. ii, and the whole of vol. iii. According to a note at the beginning (i, f. 1) Bachschmid died in 1797 (æ. 73), and not in 1782 (as in Mendel). The copies were probably made for Johann Kaspar Schubarth, who edited the first of the treatises in 1786, after the author's death (1782). Belonged 1794-1823 (?) to G. Skeffer, "Hof-meister in E[ichstädt?]." Add. 31034-31036.

31034. vol. i (ff. 205). 1. "Bass-Schlüssel" [published as above]; followed (at f. 71) by twenty-two leaves of supplementary matter, which do not appear in the published edition. After f. 84b some leaves appear to be missing. f. 1.

2. A "Sechstes Capitel," on counterpoint: a continuation of the Aufangsgründe zur musicalischen Setzkunst, of which the 5th chapter appeared in 1768; the first part of this is in the same hand as vol. ii, ff. 1-70 (below). After f. 165, a leaf is missing. f. 93.

31035. vol. ii (ff. 126). A work in two parts, "Von der Fuge," beg. "Ich wünsche dir wohl gelebt zu haben." Like other treatises by Riepel, it is in the form of a dialogue between Discantista and Preceptor. ff. 1, 71.

31036. vol. iii (ff. 79). "Dess Harmonischen Sylben-Masses, iiten Theil": a continuation of the work of that name published in two parts in 1776.

"THE CLAVIER-SCHOOL" (sc. Clavier-schule, pt. i), by Daniel Gottlob (or rather Gottlieb) Türk, 1789; translated by Dr. Callcott in 1803, and followed by a précis of the same and of other portions of the work. For a further description of the MS., see below (section iii). Add. 27686, ff. 23, 40.

DIAGRAMS, accompanied by brief notes, of the monochord and "true harmonick" scales. Anonymous. Add. 34126, ff. 1b, 2, 98b, 99 (about 1789).

FRAGMENTS of notes for works, apparently unpublished, on musical composition, by Dr. William Crotch. For an account of the MS., see vol. i, p. 75. Add. 30392 (about 1794—see ff. 46b, 54b).

1. Resolutions of discords, forms of ending compositions, etc. ff. 44b-46.
2. "A scheme for composition," divided into eight parts, of which only the first four are given, namely:—(1) "Of composing music in one key"; (2) "Of modulation"; (3) "On ornamented music"; (4) "On extraneous passages." ff. 80b-96b.

"REGOLE del contrappunto pratico di Nicola Sala...1794." Begins "Uomini sommi." In the hand of Dr. Charles Burney. For a further account of the MS., see vol. i, p. 122. Add. 11589, ff. 25-121; 11591, ff. 1-22.

REGULE Contrappuncti varijs sub speciebus datæ et compositæ," arranged under the following headings:—"Contrapunctus in genere" (with which words the treatise commences), "Contrapunctus ab Octavâ," "Contrapunctus a Decimâ," "Contrapunctus a Duodecimâ," "Contrapunctus a motu contrario," "Regulæ xv in omni Compositione observandæ," "De usu dissonantium," and "Examen Regularum per quatuor Contrapuncti Species institutum." Anonymous. It is one of four treatises on music, apparently transcribed for the use of Pater Æmilianus Kaiser, of the monastery of Petershausen (near Constance), in 1796. Bookplate of Carl Ferdinand Schmalhob. Add. 34117, ff. 3-37.

MEMORANDA, etc., relating to the theory of music, in the hand of Dr. Callcott. Add. 27687 (A.D. 1796-1802).

In two volumes. The proper position of the letters in vol. ii is immediately after f. 54 of vol. i. Add. 27688, 27689, passim (A.D. 1798-1803).

"TRACTAT von der Musicalischen Composition," by N. N. Böhmer, organist of St. Michael's, Lüneburg. It begins "Es ist mühsam gewisse Regule zu schreiben," being divided into eleven chapters, of which the principal headings are "Intervallen," "Consonantien und Dissonantien," "Von der Triate Harmonica," "Von den Modis oder Tonis," "Transposition und Reduction," "Text," "Stimme," and "Fugen"; with examples. Add. 4910, ff. 62-83b (18th cent.).

"REGOLE della Musica": consisting of a few rough notes of the scales, etc. Anonymous. Add. 14245, ff. 58-66 (18th cent.).

NOTES on the theory of music, the principal subjects of which are Pauses, Cadences, Resolution of discords, Canons, and Modulation; with numerous examples of each. Said to be by Dr. Benjamin Cooke. Autograph. 18th cent. Add. 29298 (ff. 102).

EXTRACTS relating to the theory of music from works by [August Friedrich Christoph] Kollmann (f. 5), Bart[hold] Fritz, [Johann Kaspar] Heck, [Johann Philipp] Kirnberger (f. 4b), [Jean Philippe] Rameau (ff. 4, 28, 27b), [Johann Nicholas] Forkel (f. 25), etc.; in the hand of Dr. Callcott, 1807, etc. Add. 27692 (reversed), passim.

"ESSAY on musical Theories"; in the hand, and evidently the work, of Dr. Callcott. Add. 27647, ff. 27b-37 (late 18th cent.).

NOTES by John Stafford Smith on the names and values of musical notes, time-signatures, minor keys, musical accent, etc. Add. 34609, ff. 75b, 79 (late 18th cent.).

"TREATISE on music (Counterpoint, Fugue and Composition)," with very numerous short musical examples, almost all of them anonymous, by C[arl] F[riedrich] Baumgarten (ff. 1783-1794). Original draft. Evidently the one alluded to by his pupil William Thomas Parke, in Musical Memoirs, vol. ii, p. 191, and in Grove. The application to music of the Greek names for the various figures of speech is somewhat forced, and indeed the connection at all with music of one or two passages (e.g. ff. 39b-40b, 42b, 43) is difficult to trace. At the beginning is the crest of Samuel Appleby. Late 18th cent. Add. 36681 (ff. 183).

SHORT PASSAGE, beginning "This is the discant of instrumental Music"; immediately followed by "The mode of playing the eight perfect tones and the eight principal" [?] on the harp]. From a collection of Welsh poems and letters. Add. 15029, f. 138 (18th-19th cent.).

NOTE by Samuel Wesley on the nature of the Diatonic scale. Add. 35003, f. 36 (early 19th cent.).

"THOUGHTS on the Musical Terms used by the ancient Greeks," by, and in the hand of, Dr. Callcott, 1804. The remaining articles are printed, forming part of a publication by Dr. Callcott (watermark, 1800). Add. 27646, ff. 174-178.

"PRACTISCHE METHODE zum (sic) Erlernung der musikalischen Composition . . . von Hieronymus Payer, Kapellmeister." Autograph. The work was originally divided into three parts, (1) "Harmonie," (2) "Melodie," (3) "Melodie und Harmonie"; but the present MS. contains only part i, preceded by a neat copy of the first fifty or sixty pages. Begins "Der Zweck dieses Werkes." Add. 32412, ff. 54–207 (A.D. 1826).

"OBSERVATIONS on Chanting, explanatory of a new system . . . written for the purpose of simplifying it; so that . . . persons without musical education may be easily taught to chant accordingly to given rule. By R[obert] L[ucas] Pearsall, of Willsbridge in the county of Gloucester. Written at Wartensee, on the Lake of Constance, the 27th of August, 1851." The work is divided into three parts, Introductory, Explanatory, and Practical; and contains numerous musical illustrations. Belonged to Marianne Ellacombe, afterwards Mrs. Welland (ff. 1, 61b); purchased in 1907 from Mrs. Philippa Swinnerton Hughes, the writer's daughter. Add. 37490 (ff. 69).

SECTION II.—HISTORIES.

a. HISTORIES OF MUSIC.

PORTIONS of the Hon. Roger North's treatise, "The Musical Grammarian," containing a very brief account of the music of antiquity, followed by a more detailed description of music in England during the reigns of Charles I and Charles II, including references to [Rev. Thomas] Salmon's controversy with Matthew Lock. f. 44b;—to [Thomas] Morley's "Tract of Musick by way of Dialogue" (sc. Introduction to Practicall Musicke). f. 155b;—to the introduction of public concerts and "semi-operas" (sc. Incidental Music). ff. 174, 175b;—and to various musicians whose names are given in Index II. Add. 32533, ff. 152–181b (early 18th cent.).

COPIES of letters written at various times by officers of the Abbey of Bury St. Edmund's, containing injunctions against the setting up of private schools of singing, etc., in that town. Included in a Register of the Abbey. The writers are Johannes [de Brinkele], abbot, 1370; Willelmus de Hoo, sacristan and archdeacon, 1290; and Willelmus Barwe, sacristan and archdeacon, 1426. Harl. 645, ff. 86, 86b (mid. 15th cent.).

A POEM, beginning "Un-comly in cloystre," containing a complaint by two monks of the difficulty of learning church music. The fly-leaves at the end appear to connect the MS. with Norwich. Ar. 292, ff. 70b, 71 (temp. Edward II?).

REFERENCES to the duties, salary, housing, etc., of the organist and choristers of the Royal chapel; from a collection of transcripts made by or for Rev. Roger Huggett, Librarian of Eton College, chiefly from MSS. in the Ashmolean Museum at Oxford, dating from time of Edward III to that of Charles II, and relating to the Dean, Canons, and College of Windsor. Included (f. 75) is an Indenture granting to Nathaniel Gyles, Mus. Bac., "that he shall have for his Life a Clerk's Place, and be one of the Players on the organ... with other Perquisites which may be given to the Choristers," 1596. Add. 4847, ff. 43–90 passim (about 1758).

PAPERS relating to a Greek MS. (since lost) discovered at the capture of Buda in 1686, and supposed to be at least three centuries old. It contained a collection of hymns, etc., written for the Greek church at Constantinople, as well as instructions for singing them. The short account of the MS. on f. 126 is in the hand of Humphrey Wanley. Lansd. 763, ff. 124–127b, 130.

ACCOUNT of the Eisteddfod held by Grifflith ap Nicolas [d. 1461] at Caermarthen; from MSS. of Paul Panton and Iolo Morganwg (Edward Williams). Add. 15003, ff. 93b–98b (about 1799?); 15022, ff. 113–117 (18th cent.).

ANOTHER ACCOUNT of the same Eisteddfod; from a MS. of Jago ab Dewi (James Davies). Add. 15003, ff. 64–72b (about 1799?).

GRANTS, etc., to clerks of the King's Chapel, trumpeters, minstrels, and others, whose names are given in Index II; from a register of the correspondence of Richard III, kept by his chancellor, John Russell, Bishop of Lincoln. Included (f. 189) is a licence to John Melyonek, LISTS of musicians, with their fees, from the Establishment-book for 1552. They are divided into (1) "Musitions and Plaiers," the instruments employed being nearly the same as in the preceding reign, but different in number and including two flute-players (in place of a fifer and tabret-players), and seven "Musitions straungers" (among them "the fowre brethren Venetians, viz. John, Anthonie, Jasper, and Baptiste [Bassano]"). ff. 27, 27b;—"The Chappell," including the Master of the Children and forty gentlemen of the Chapel. f. 36;—and three "Singers." f. 39. The names are given in Index II. Stowe 571.

LIST of the offices of "Musitions and Players," with their fees. Copied from a MS. of about the year 1552. See Catalogue of Additions, 1888–1893. Add. 34010, ff. 27b, 28 (temp. Elizabeth).

A SIMILAR LIST (f. 13), followed by "The Chappell" (f. 18b); taken from what appears to be a copy of the Establishment-book of Edward VI (conf. Add. 34010, above), and probably intended as an estimate for similar expenditures by Queen Mary, the number of whose musicians did ultimately exactly correspond with those of her predecessor (see the list in the first year of her reign given in Collier's History of English Dramatic Poetry, i, 165). The difference in the amounts paid to the two odd minstrels and the flute-players in Add. 34010 is probably due to an error. Harl. 240 (about 1553).

CONFIRMATION of licence to sell ashes and old shoes granted to William Treasurer, late maker of musical instruments to Philip and Mary, in consideration of his having "devised and geven vnto vs a newe instrument Musically geving the Sounde of . . . SECTION III.—DICTIONARIES* OF MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

COLLECTIONS made by Dr. John Wall Callcott for a Dictionary of Music (see Add. 27649–50, below); chiefly autograph, with a few extracts in the hand of his pupil Joseph Coggins. Thirty-six volumes. In almost all cases the volumes are begun at both ends, the writing having been originally on every other page only; but in many instances the alternate pages were afterwards utilized. Add. 27651–27686 (A.D. 1797–1807, with a few later additions).

The contents consist almost entirely of extracts from the principal writers on the theory of music, the chief items being distributed as follows:—

27651. vol. i (ff. 19). A printed account of these MSS. from The Orchestra, 7 Oct., 1870. f. 3;—and extracts from various authors relating to Harmonics. ff. 4b–19.
- 27652, 27653. vols. ii, iii (ff. 71, 70). An abridgement of Grassineau's Musical Dictionary [1740].
27654. vol. iv (ff. 69). An abridgement of a MS. Dictionary of Musical terms by Marmaduke Overend.
27655. vol. v (ff. 70). Extracts from Dr. Burney's Musical Tour [1773]. f. 1;—and from the Histories of Music by the same author and Sir John Hawkins. ff. 62, 69b.
27656. vol. vi (ff. 60). Extracts from Chambers' Cyclopædia. f. 2;—[J. G.] Sultzer's (sc. Sulzer's) Die schoenen Künste, 1778. f. 37;—and [Conrad] Henfling's Specimen de novo Systemate Musico, 1708. f. 47.
- 27657–27663. vols. vii–xiii (ff. 69, 66, 64, 66, 67, 66, 40). Abridgement of [J. G.] Walther's Lexicon [1728].
- 27664, 27665. vols. xiv, xv (ff. 60, 42). "Extracts from Authors in Alphabetical order" (A, B). At the end of 27665 there is a very brief "Account of Dr. Burney."
27666. vol. xvi (ff. 47). Extracts from works in the library of Dr. Burney at Chelsea College.
27667. vol. xvii (ff. 70). Extracts from La Scienza de' Suoni, by G. Pizzati, 1782. f. 4;—and Dr. [Abraham] Rees' [New] Cyclopædia [1802]. f. 59;—and Letters of Dr. Callcott, in the hand of Joseph Coggins, on the latter work, addressed to Dr. Burney, 1802–1803. ff. 69b–59b, reversed.
27668. vol. xviii (ff. 70). "Extracts, made in the library of [George John, 2nd] Earl Spencer," from:—Niccolai Burtii . . . musicæ opusculum, 1847. f. 3;—[G. S.] Löhlein's Clavier-schule, 1791. f. 61;—the Appendix to [John] Wallis' Claudii Ptolemæi Harmonicorum libri tres, 1682. f. 68b;—Meibom's Antiquæ musicæ auctores septem, 1652. f. 47b.
27669. vol. xix (ff. 55). Extracts from [Andreas] Werckmeister's Cribrum Musicum, 1700. f. 4;—from his Musikalische Paradoxa Discourse, 1707. f. 12;—from [C. G.] Schroeter's Deutliche Anweisung zum General Bass, 1772. f. 29;—[J. G.] Albrechtsberger's [Gründliche] Anweisung zur Composition, 1790. f. 35; Précis of correspondence with Kollmann on Fundamental Bass, 1798–1799. ff. 35b–16b, reversed (right-hand pages only);—

* Included are collections made for the purpose of compiling dictionaries.

- Letter to W. Shield on the Harmony of the Dominant, 1802. f. 38b;—and Pepusch's Treatise on Harmony, 1731. f. 41b. For other portions of this volume, see vol. ii, p. 44; above, p. 287; and below, sections v, ix.
27670. vol. xx (ff. 92). Extracts from vol. i of "Encyclopédie Méthodique," published by [N. E.] Framery and [P. L.] Ginguené, 1791. At f. 91b there is a brief account of a Polychord invented by Abbé Feyton (called Feytou in Grove and Fétis).
- 27671-27673. vols. xxi-xxiii (ff. 69, 94, 68). "Extracts from various Authors on the Science of Harmonies."
27674. vol. xxiv (passim). Rough drafts of letters (ff. 13b-32 passim) from Dr. Callcott, chiefly addressed to Charles, 3rd Earl of Stanhope, and relating to the latter's "Principles of the science of tuning instruments with fixed tones," 1806, afterwards incorporated by Callcott in A Plain Statement of Earl Stanhope's Temperament, 1807. ff. 13b-32 passim;—another to [William] Horsley, excusing himself from attending the "Ancient Concerts" and the "Vocal Concerts," 13 Feb., 1807. f. 66;—a letter of Dr. Pepusch, on "the various Genera and Species of music among the ancients," addressed to Abraham de Moivre, and printed with alterations in the Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society, 1746-1747. ff. 68b-51b.
27675. vol. xxv (ff. 48). Extracts chiefly from the Harmonie Universelle of Mersenne, 1636, and (reversing the volume, f. 47b) from [Marmaduke] Overend's MSS.
27676. vol. xxvi (ff. 42). "System of harmony demonstrated from Dr. Boyce's MSS."; etc.

AUTOGRAPH LETTERS, of a private character, written by Samuel Wesley, the composer. Add. 31764.

1. To Charles Stokes, 1804. f. 18.
- 2-4. Three to George Smith, of Fever-sham, relating to the proposed discontinuance of pianoforte lessons to his daughter, 1808. ff. 20, 22, 24.
5. To a pianoforte-manufacturer, referring to a commission, 1813. f. 26.
6. To Britiffe Smith, 1828. f. 27.
7. To a brother-mason, containing a comparison between organ and pianoforte playing, and winding up with a request for "critical work" to occupy his leisure hours, 1829. ff. 28, 30 (printed).
8. To —, asking his opinion on some composition by his son [Samuel Sebastian], 1836. f. 32.

AUTOGRAPH LETTERS of Samuel Wesley to Vincent Novello, 1811-1817, 1820, 1821, 1823-1825, during the greater part of which time he was working under the latter at the Portuguese Chapel in South Street, for which he harmonized an immense quantity of Gregorian music. In his frequent allusions to this work he twice (ff. 39, 140) speaks of himself as a "good Catholic." There are numerous references throughout the letters to his musical and masonic engagements, to the study of Sebastian Bach's music in England, in which Wesley was so deeply interested, and to his intercourse with the Webbes (father and son), [William?] Linley, Joseph Major, and Joseph Gwilt, with occasional notices of other musicians (whose names appear in Index II). Among compositions of his own referred to are a madrigal (f. 51), a "Waterloo song" (f. 141), and "Carmen funebre" (f. 189). There are also letters of Wesley to [Richard] Clark [1823], resigning his membership of the Glee Club (f. 169), and a few enclosures addressed to himself by friends, but not of a musical nature. At f. 158b is a memorandum by Novello, expressing indignation at the neglect with which his friend Wesley and his compositions were at that time [1820?] treated by "the pretended Patrons of good music in England." Add. 11729.

PAPERS relating to Samuel Wesley, consisting of letters to Vincent Novello from Josiah French and William Kingston, and a short pedigree in Novello's hand. Add. 17731, ff. 36-40 (A.D. 1849).

TWO PORTRAITS of Samuel Wesley, namely:—A water-colour in an oval frame, copied by Francis Gilling for John Wesley from the original in the possession of Dr. S. S. Wesley, in 1861. f. 2;—A pencil-drawing. f. 3. Add. 31764.

FOUR LETTERS written by Samuel Wesley, when a young man, to Mrs. Freeman Shepherd. They were transcribed in 1892 from copies made (shortly before) by Mrs. Martha Jervis of the originals [about 1784] at Paris. The principal subject of them is the writer's wish to join the Church of Rome, to which step he appears to have been urged by his correspondent, as well as by Dr. Geddes, to whom he was introduced by Lord and Lady Traquair. Undated. Add. 34267, ff. 32-38.

NOTES in the hand of Eliza Wesley, relating to her father. For a further description of the MS., see Catalogue of Additions, 1894-1899. Add. 35016 (late 19th cent.).

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. Reference by Vincent Novello (in Select Organ Pieces , no. 20) to Samuel Wesley's "extraordinary musical talent," and to his having "introduced | to this country the . . . works of Sebastian Bach." ff. 80, 80b.
2. "Mention of Bach" in Wesley's lectures and letters. f. 89. |

ORIGINAL LETTERS of Samuel Sebastian Wesley, and other members of his family, 1824-1876, besides a few miscellaneous papers connected with him. The names of most of the writers and of other musicians referred to, are given in Index II. Add. 35019, passim.

MISCELLANEOUS.

"INSTRUMENTORUM musicorum genera tria," by Cassiodorus. Harl. 2637, f. 40 (9th cent.). See also above, under Treatises, p. 297.

EPISTLE to Dardanus on the musical instruments of the Vulgate (especially those enumerated in Daniel iii), including the "Organum" (f. 2), "Tuba" (f. 3), "Pistula" (f. 3b), "Cythara" and "Sambuca" * (f. 4b), "Psalterium" and "Tympanum" † (f. 5b), and "Chorus" ‡ (f. 6). The letter begins "Tibi, Dardane, de aliis generibus musicorum," and is printed as St. Jerome's in the Paris edition of his works, 1706; but is in reality the work of another (Jerome?) living in the 8th–9th century. 8 C. iii, ff. 2–6 (11th cent.).

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS used in the British Isles in the time of Giraldus Cambrensis. See a list of his MSS., under Historical Notes, above (p. 331).

LISTS, by Henry Power, M.D., of musical instruments known at the time that the present MS. was written [1663–1664. See ff. 121b, 125]. They are divided into "Wind-Instruments," "Strikeing Instruments," "String'd Instruments of Ropps or gutts," and "Instruments with wire-strings." Sloane 1326, f. 122.

DESCRIPTIONS by Hon. Roger North of the mechanism of musical instruments, including, besides others already described, Mutes (f. 61). Add. 32534, ff. 51b–82b passim (early 18th cent.).

* Erroneously described as a wind instrument, whence possibly the mistranslation ("Sackbut") of the authorised English version.

† Also wrongly described as a wind instrument.

‡ The "Symphonia" (?) of the Vulgate.

DRAWINGS of primitive musical instruments (named above, in locis) apparently in the hand of D[omenico Maria] Fratta, accompanied by descriptions. See also under Treatises, above (p. 324). Add. 6137, ff. 20-47 (French, 1733).

"DE TRIBUS GENERIBUS Instrumentorum musicæ Veterum Organicæ" [by Francesco Bianchini], being evidently the copy from which that work was printed [1742], with eight full-page plates of illustrations. At the beginning are the original imprimaturs, etc. Add. 24110.

DESCRIPTIONS of "Ancient Instruments of Music still seen in the remote Russian villages," by Matthew Guthrie, M.D. A French translation, or rather version, of the above forms the commencement of the author's Dissertations sur les Antiquités de Russie, published in 1795. At ff. 390-400 are the original drawings made for that work, followed (ff. 406-408) by impressions of the plates. The instruments which have equivalents in western Europe are noted in locis. Add. 14390, ff. 8-19, etc. (1795, etc.).

ORCHESTRAS, ETC.

DRAWINGS of groups of musicians, etc., playing on the following combinations of instruments:—Harp, Viol, Drum (played on by "αἱ προεξάρχονσαι τοῦ χοροῦ"). Add. 19352, f. 191 (Greek, 1066);—Bass-viol, Harp, Rote, Viol, Trumpet. Harl. 2804, f. 3b (German, 1148);—Rebec (? leader), Harp and Psaltery, Bass-viol and Horn. Ar. 157, f. 71b (English, early 13th cent.);—Psaltery and Harp, Rebec (or Cymbals) and Organistrum, Trumpet and Viol, Crowd (or Horn) and Organ. Add. 35166, ff. 4b, 6 (Two groups. English, late 13th cent.);—Trumpet, Tambourine (square), Viol; Viol, Organistrum, Harp, Psaltery. Add. 18719, ff. 164b, 258 (Two groups. French, 13th-14th cent.);—Bells, Citole, Viol, Psaltery. Burn. 275, f. 359b (French, early 14th cent.);—Cymbals, Double Flageolet, Kettle-drum, Organ, Psaltery, Trumpets, Viol. Add. 27695, f. 13 (Italian, 14th cent.);—Harp, Rebec, Viol, Lute, Cither. Harl. 4381, f. 256b (French, 14th-15th cent.);—Viol, Lute, Lyre, 2 Trumpets. Ar. 120, f. 46 (German, early 15th cent.);—2 Trumpets (one ending in barrel), Cither, Chalumeau, Harp, Viol, Kettle-drum, Thurner-horn, Rebec, Lute, Psaltery; Organ, Psaltery, Horn, Viol, Harp, Chalumeau, Lute; 2 Lutes, 2 Chalumeaux, Harp, Psaltery, Trumpet; Viol, Psaltery, Lute, Harp. 19 D. iii, ff. 458, 595b, 596 (Four groups. French, 1411);—Organ, Shawm, Lute, Harp. Harl. 2917, f. 93 (French, 2nd half of 15th cent.);—Marine Trumpet (? leader), Psaltery, Kettle-drums, 2 Shawms, Chalumeau, Lute, Cither, Harp, Organ, Triangle, Pipe and Tabor. Add. 27697, f. 185b (Piedmont, 2nd half of 15th cent.);—Harp, Flûte-à-bec, 3 Horns (short and long), Shawm, Triangle, Viol, Trumpet, Cither; Harp, Viol, Organ, Shawm, Dulcimer, Trumpet, Lute; Pipe and Tabor, Triangle, Shawm (?), Trumpet, Harp, Lute, Cither (?), Flûte-à-bec (?), Bagpipe (?), Psaltery, Organ. Add. 18851, ff. 155b, 164, 184b (Three groups. Flemish, late 15th cent.);—Psaltery, Lute, Rebec, Transverse Flute, Flûte-à-bec. Add. 15426, f. 86 (Flemish, 1522);—Trumpet, Harp, Dulcimer, Side-drum, Flûte-à-bec. 2 A. xvi, f. 98b (English, temp. Henry VIII);—Organ, Flûte-à-bec, Violin, Lute, Bass-Viol, Trombone. Eg. 1554, f. 2 (German, end of 16th cent.);—Lute, Viol, Bass-viol (?), Spinnet; Bass-Viol, Lute, Cither, Viol, Guitar. Add. 27579, ff. 87, 149b (Two groups. German, 1602, 1603).

DESCRIPTION by R[obert] C[reyghton, D.D.], in an 8-line stanza, of an orchestra consisting of Cortals, Bassoons, Sackbuts, Clarions, Hautbois, "Chirrimias," and Violins. Add. 37074, f. 3b (about 1727).

SECTION VIII.—CAMPANOLOGY.*

MUSICAL NOTES on a stave of 5 lines, below which is written what looks like "The Chyme[s] of Cardlyffe": apparently the chimes played on the bells (five in number?) of the parish church of Cardliff. Royal Appendix 58, f. 39b (early 16th cent.).

INSTRUCTIONS for bell-ringing, etc.; from a volume of Indentures made between Henry VII and the abbot and monastery of Westminster. Harl. 1498 (A.D. 1504).

DESCRIPTION of a bell seen by Lawrence Bostock in 1573 "at London onn the tower wharfe...whiche came from Dervear [Veer]...within the Island of Walkerland [Walcheren, in Belgium]...whiche bell weyet about tenne thowsand weight, and is about two yards heighe"; with an inscription from which it appears that it was named "Adulsus" and was cast in 1500 by Peter Waghevens. Harl. 139, f. 43b (about 1573).

LETTER from — Tirwitt, subdean of her majesty's chapel, to Lord Burghley, stating that the Queen had commanded him "to devise her a chime...to haue it playe pavens and galliardes, or anye other songe," and expressing her majesty's pleasure that "yowr honor...shoulde take order for the charges thereof"; followed by a short description of three bells of varying sizes capable of playing the required tunes. Lansd. 108, ff. 100, 102 (late Elizabeth?).

* For drawings of bells, see above (section vii).

FIGURES showing how "To ring Tunes on 5 Bells." The tunes are "The 163 (sic) ps.," "The 42 ps.," "The 25 ps.," "John, com kiss mee now," "Ladies ffall," and "Barnaby." From the memorandum-book of John Locke, solicitor, father of the philosopher. Add. 28273, f. 102 (about 1623-1655).

MEMORANDUM how "To make chimes, Feb. 18, A^o 1631-2," by means of "an engine which being mooved shall by the striking upon certeine bells, make a certeine tune," etc., with a diagram of a "kylander mooving upon its Axis...fittest for y^e purpose." The date Horsham, 1629, appears to refer to the conception of the invention. Add. 4459, ff. 19b, 20.

"ORDERS...agreed vpon by the Company exercising the Arte of Ringing...called...the Schollers of Cheapeside...beginning...1603." It consists of the rules (thirty-seven in number) of the society, which do not however appear to have been set down in writing before the year 1610 (see f. 14b), lists of the officers (a General and four Wardens, and later on a Treasurer), and the names of a few other members down to 1662, in which year Fabian Stedman, the well-known campanologist, was treasurer. The table of contents at the beginning was written by John Dover in 1636 (the year after his holding the office of General) and the list of members down to his year of office was probably written under his direction. Sloane 3463 (ff. 46).

THE MODE of ringing certain peals, expressed by figures; taken from a MS. of miscellaneous contents, of which the first part appears to have been compiled about the time of Charles I by Edward Barwick, the arms-painter. Harl. 1380, ff. 39-40.

| 2. "A flower-and-twenty on fower Bells, with the fifts lyeing alwayes | "Psalmes," and another "Psalmes." f. 40. |

RULES of the bell-ringing society known as "Esquire youths," from which it appears that the officers consisted of General, Treasurer, Clerk, two Stewards, and two Wardens. The present MS. is dated 1662, but the society appears to have existed before that. At f. 12b there is a note, dated 1663, of the alteration of the date of the "General feast"; with the crown and cypher of Charles II on the covers. Add. 28504, ff. 24b-12b (reversed).

NOTE of the manner of ringing the ten bells of Bow. Add. 29283, f. 3 (about 1682-1691).

NOTES of measurements (in English) of bells at Pekin, Erford (= Erfurt?), Roan (sc. Rouen), Rhodes, and Paris. Sloane 3888, f. 46 (17th cent.).

ORIGINAL REGISTER of the "Ancient Society of College Youths," containing an account of peals rung by them in 1727-1745, preceded and followed by instructions for ringing various changes. At the end is a copper ticket of membership. Presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Osborn, the widow of Edward John Osborn, the campanologist. Add. 19373 (ff. 29).

ACCOUNT of the origin of bells, from a treatise (see above, p. 324) by Charles Hebert. French. Add. 6137, f. 73 (A.D. 1733).

COLLECTION of changes for church-bell ringing; by Benjamin Annable (d. 1756), whose name is scribbled on the fly-leaf. They are for peals of from 3 to 12 bells. A rough list of the tunes is given on ff. 167b-170. Bequeathed by Rev. H. T. Ellacombe. For a detailed account of the MS., see Church Bells, vol. vii, pp. 15-63 passim, and p. 86. About 1750 (see f. 114). Add. 33357 (ff. 173).

ORIGINAL ACCOUNTS of performances by the two following bell-ringing societies; with a few engravings of churches, etc., added in the 19th century by Edward John Osborn, whose widow presented the MS. Add. 19372 (ff. 89).

COLLECTION of rubbings of inscriptions on Church Bells, chiefly in cos. Gloucester and Devon, alphabetically arranged; made and bequeathed by Rev. H. T. Ellacombe. Add. 33202, 33203 (19th cent.).

SECTION IX.—MUSICAL SOCIETIES.*

"ORDERS of the Ancient Company or Fraternity of Mynstrells, in Beverley," 1555. Copy (18th cent.). Lansd. 896, ff. 153-157b.

REGISTER-BOOK of a musical society founded at Nuremberg in 1588, consisting of the original rules, with a few additions made to them in 1589-1596, preceded by the names and arms of the members during that period, and followed by the minutes of their meetings down to 1602. There appear to have been no more meetings till 1623, in which year the society was resuscitated by Georg Volcamer (see f. 36b, and, for his portrait, f. 40). Folios 40b-59 are occupied by the names and arms of the new members, 1626-1629, followed by the new rules and the minutes of the society's meetings during that period. Add. 25716 (ff. 59).

MINUTES of the meetings of the "Corporac[i]on for regulateing the Art and science of Musique," commonly known as the Corporation of Musicians. Down to 1664 they were signed by the marshal only, Nicholas Lanier[e] [the first marshal of the Company, which was re-founded by Charles I], or by the deputy-marshal [Captain] Henry Cooke. There is a gap between the years 1664 and 1670, during which period (probably at Lanier's death, in 1666), Cooke was made marshal; he was succeeded in 1672 by T[homas] Purcell, uncle of Henry Purcell. A.D. 1661-1679. Harl. 1911 (ff. 25).

* Included are Registers, Minutes, Rules, etc. Papers relating to Bell-ringing Societies are described under Campanology, above (section viii).

HYMNS.

Printed Book, 3437. g. 19, pp. 1-121, etc.

Paper; about 1713 (?). Small octavo.

The Whole Book of Psalms... by Thomas Sternhold, John Hopkins, and others... Printed by William Pearson... 1712; with the tunes, in score, added in MS. on the inter-leaves. Those marked a, below, are for 4 voices and, unless the contrary is stated, taken from an edition of Thomas Ravenscroft's Whole Booke of Psalmes; those marked b, from John Playford's 3-part setting of the same collection (? chiefly the 1713 edition); and those marked a, b, from both these latter works. At the beginning is some prefatory matter (also in MS.), rather similar to that in the 1713 edition (above referred to), including "The Gamut or Scale of Musick" and the "Musickall Notes with their Names," etc. In the following list the Psalms are taken first (in their numerical order), interpolated matter being left to the end. Where no tune appears in loco, or is indicated elsewhere in the volume, the one given by Playford (if it be found in the present volume), or that given by Ravenscroft, or by both, is conjecturally supplied in square brackets. The words "By T. R.," etc., after the name of the tune, mean "Harmonized by T. Ravenscroft"; "J. P." stands for John Playford. The pages given below are those of the MS. portions of the volume.

MASSES.

Printed Book, K. 3. m. 8 (end), ff. 1-18.

Paper; 16th cent. Octavo. The first part of the volume contains printed "Preces Speciales... per Jacobum de Kerle... cum Quatuor Vocibus... Venetiis... 1562."

MASS [in dedicatione ecclesiæ], apparently for 4 voices, with a 2nd cantus part added in the "Sanctus" and "Agnus Dei." First and 2nd cantus parts only. Inserted in MS. Anonymous. Included are the introit, "Terribilis est locus" (f. 1); the gradual, "Locus iste" (f. 6); the "prosa," "Psallat ecclesia" (f. 6b); the offertorium, "Domine Deus" (f. 13); and the communio, "Domus mea" (f. 18b).

Add. 37639.

Paper; ff. 41. After 1852 (at the end of which year Louis Napoleon became Emperor—see f. 37b). Folio.

MESSE SOLENNELLE (Ste. Cécile), in D, written by Charles Gounod, for 3 solo-voices and 4-part chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for flutes, oboes, clarinets, 4 bassoons, 4 horns, [cornets-à-pistons, trombones, kettle-drums, cymbals, big drum, 6 harps, strings, and organ, in full score. Holograph, each number being signed "Ch.

Gounod." The work is in a shortened form, the "Gloria in excelsis" being immediately followed by the Offertoire (a prayer, for orchestra alone), and the latter by the "Domine, salvum fac Imperatorem nostrum Napoleonem." The mass appears to have been executed in its original form at St. Eustache, Paris, in 1849; and a selection from it was performed in London in 1851.

MOTETS.

Printed Book, K. 3. m. 8 (end), f. 20.

Paper; 16th cent. Octavo. See also above, p. 398.

"VENI, sancte Spiritus." Treble part only. Inserted in MS. Anonymous.

Add. 37402, 37405, f. 1b.

Paper; after 1601. Oblong octavo. See also above, p. 222, etc.

"FUERUNT MIHI lachryme mee." Only two out of the four parts are given. Attributed in Thomas Myriell's "Tristitiæ remedium" (prepared for publication in 1616) to Alfonso Ferrabosco. See vol. i of the present Catalogue, pp. 10, 281.

Add. 37027, ff. 19–31b.

Paper; early 18th cent. Folio. See also above, p. 96.

MOTETS for 2 voices, the first three with basses for harpsichord or organ, in score. Nos. 1 and 2 are by Carissimi; nos. 3–5 by André Campra, from his first book of Motets, published before 1700.

"ILLE (sc. Zachariah), promissi dubius superni," followed by a metrical version of the "Gloria Patri," beginning "Sit decus Patri"; for 3 voices, in score, by Samuel Wesley. Autograph. The beginning appears to have been lost.

ORATORIOS.

Add. 37323–37325.

Paper; ff. 68, 72, 56. After 1741 (date of composition). Oblong folio. Belonged in 1761 to [John?] Randall, in 1811 to Charles Hague, and in 1878 to the Rev. Edward Goddard.

SAMSON: Oratorio, in full score, by Handel. In three volumes. Among the numerous cuts (chiefly of recitatives or airs, or both) apparently indicated by the composer himself, are those of "His mighty griefs" (the second part of "Return, O God of Hosts," vol. ii, f. 6), "Let the Cherubic host" (the second part of "Let the bright seraphim," vol. iii, f. 48), and the chorus "To man God's universal Law gave Pow'r" (vol. ii, f. 33b). Most of the recitatives published in square brackets in the Händel-Gesellschaft's edition of the Oratorio do not appear at all in the present MS., which, however, contains a recitative (vol. iii, p. 33) not printed by that society. The air "To Song and Dance" (vol. ii, f. 55) and the Dead March are given by the Händel-Gesellschaft in the Appendix, the place of the latter march being supplied here by that "In 'Saul,'" as indicated in pencil in the composer's own hand (vol. iii, f. 37b). The other principal autograph pencil additions by him are (in vol. i) the words "Largo" (f. 42b), and "Adagio" (f. 58b); and (in vol. ii) the words, "Out cho[rus]" (f. 6), and "Recit" (f. 26b).

Add. 37522, f. 44.

Paper; about 1672. Oblong octavo. See also under Songs (secular), below.

"TOTAL ECLIPSE": air from Handel's "Samson" [1741], with flute (?) and a figured bass for harpsichord, in score.

Add. 37424.

Paper; ff. 16. About 1830 (see below). Quarto. Belonged to Mrs. Bullachy, of Headington, near Oxford, at whose death (1884) it was acquired by T. W. Taphouse.

ADDITIONAL parts for organ and drum to Dr. William Crotch's Oratorio "Palestine," originally composed in 1805 (cf. Add. 30390, 30391, described in vol. i, p. 381). Autograph, evidently written for a revival of the work, about 1830 (watermark).

SERVICES.

Add. 37404, ff. 92-94.

Paper; early 17th cent. Oblong octavo. See also above, p. 222, etc.

WHOLE SERVICE (without kyrie), in D. Treble part only. Anonymous. The first leaf is mutilated. A second Magnificat added at f. 96b is imperfect at the end. In a rather later hand than the rest of the MS.

SONGS.

Harl. 2637, f. 53.

PART II.—VOCAL MUSIC—SECULAR.

CANONS.

Harl. 1512, f. 2b.

Vellum; 16th cent. On one of the fly-leaves of a Sarum Breviary belonging to the Apsley family.

SETTING of the words "Two parts in one ye may well esspy. That is my name; I may not tary": apparently a puzzle-canon, in the hand of Hugh Fletcher, "scriptor" (see top of page), who probably is responsible also for the musical scribbling on the other side of the leaf.

Add. 37267, ff. 34b, 47b.

Paper; about 1776. Small oblong folio. See also under Duets, below.

CANONS for 3 voices, in score, by Giuseppe Aprile, inserted in a collection of vocal duets by him.

1. "Perchè, vezzosi rai." f. 34b. | 2. "Voi sole, Luei belle." f. 47b.

CANTATAS.

Add. 37266.

Paper; ff. 63. [A.D. 1856.] Oblong folio.

"MAY-DAY": Cantata for a soprano voice and 4-part chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for flutes (including ottavino), oboes, clarinets, horns, bassoons, trumpets, trombones, harp, kettle-drum, tabor or triangle, and strings, in full score, by [Sir] G[eorge] A[lexander] Macfarren. The MS. appears to be the one used by Messrs. Cramer and Co. for the publication of their pianoforte score [1856], having been examined for that purpose by William Chappell, who (f. 1) states it to be "the score made for [Sir Michael] Costa to conduct from [at the original performance] at the Bradford Festival" [1856]. Apparently in the hand of F. C. Horton. Begins, "Who shall be Queen of the May."

Add. 37264.

Paper; ff. 40. About 1862. Folio.

"CANTICA," sc. "Inno delle Nazioni," beg. "Gloria pei Cieli altissimi," composed for the opening of the London Exhibition, 1862, by Verdi. Written for a tenor voice (Il Bardo) and chorus, with introductory symphony and accompaniments for flutes (including ottavino), oboes, "clarini" (? = clarinets), horns, trumpets, bassoons, trombones, "cimbasso," harp, strings, kettle-drums, big drum, and "Batteria" (? = side-drum). Evidently the copy used by Messrs. Cramer and Co. in the preparation of their pianoforte score of the work published in the same year.

Add. 37402–37406, ff. 45b–97b passim.

Paper; after 1601. Oblong octavo. See also above, p. 222, etc.

MADRIGALS and other vocal compositions, in parts, almost entirely by English composers, apparently for 5 voices, unless the contrary is stated, though the contra-tenor parts of nos. 19 and 20 are wanting, owing to a gap in vol. iii, and only one part of no. 21 is given.

1. "A strange songe" (à 4). The first-treble voice begins "Peace! I hear a voyce"; the contra-tenor, "Hold up, hold up"; the tenor, "My masters all"; and the bass, "Att betham tyme." The name "Gibbons" originally given in vol. iii has been struck out. i, f. 45b; iii, f. 65b; iv, f. 44b; v, f. 46b.
2. "The crie of London," beg. "Good morowe, my Masters." "Orlando Gibings" or "Gibbons." i, f. 46b; ii, f. 46; iii, f. 66b; iv, f. 45b; v, f. 47b.
3. "Fye, fye... my fate." Apparently by "Mundye" (see vol. v, f. 60). i, f. 57; ii, iv, f. 55b; iii, f. 76b; v, f. 60.
4. "Sorrow, sorow, staye." Adapted from J. Dowland [Second Booke of Songs... 1600]. i, f. 58b; ii, f. 57; iii, f. 77b; iv, f. 56b; v, f. 61.
- 5-18. The first part (à 5) of The Triumphs of Oriana, 1600-1601. The initial words are given in the Index. i, ff. 59b-71; ii, ff. 57b-70b; iii, ff. 78b-86b; iv, ff. 57b-65b; v, ff. 61b-68.
19. "The Crie of London," beg. "New Oysters." "Thomas Weekes." i, f. 84b; ii, f. 77; iv, v, f. 74.

PART III.—INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.

SECTION II.—A. DRUMS.

Harl. 2034, f. 75.

Paper; before 1688. Folio. From a collection of notes made by Raudle Holme III for his Academy of Armory, 1688.

“THE VOLUNTARY before the march,” sc. the notes to be beaten by the drums, as established by Prince Henry, and confirmed by Charles I in 1632.

SECTION II.—B. 3. STRING QUARTETS.

Add. 37763–37765.

Paper; A.D. 1782–1790. Oblong quarto. Purchased from Mozart's widow in 1811 by J. A. Stumpff (see Add. 37766, f. 1, etc.), at whose death, in 1847, they appear to have been acquired by Charles H. Chichele Plowden (book-plate), who bequeathed them to his daughter, Harriet Chichele Plowden, who bequeathed them, in 1907, to the British Museum.

ORIGINAL DRAFTS of ten of Mozart's quartets, for 2 violins, viola, and violoncello, in score. In three volumes. They are respectively numbered, probably by Stumpff, 28–33, 37, 34–36. The K. (followed by a number) given below, stands for Köchel's Thematic Catalogue, from which also the dates in square brackets are taken.

Add. 37763. Vol. i (ff. 68). “Six Quartetts dedicated to Haydn [1 Sept., 1785]”; originally published by Artaria as Op. 10. They are preceded by some lines on Mozart, beg. “A ray had flash'd,” by J. A. Stumpff.
